Explanations of the Astronomical Department.

By due attention to the following explanations, all the Astronomical Calculations in this work will be readily understood.

Time is regarded either as mean or apparent.

A mean day is the average length of the days in the year, and consists of 24 hours, as measured by a clock which runs uniformly, and which measures 365 times 24 hours in 365 natural days.

An apparent day is the time from the sun's leaving the meridian on one day, till its arrival on the meridian on the next day; and this time is not always the same, being sometimes more and sometimes less than 24 hours.

Mean time, then, is that shown by a well regulated clock; and apparent time is that shown by a correct sun-dial; the difference between these is called the equation of time.

The equation of time depends upon two causes, the obliquity of the colliptic to the equator, and the eccentricity of the earth's orbit; both of which tend to produce an inequality in the daily increments of the sun's right ascension, while the earth's motion on its axis is perfectly uniform. Mean and apparent time coincide only four times in the year, viz: April 15th, June 15th, August 31st, and Dec. 24th; and the greatest difference between mean and apparent time is on the 2d of November, and amounts to a little more than 141-4 minutes.

With the exception of the sun's declination and semi-diameter, and the equation of time, which are for the instant of apparent noon at Montpelier, all the calculations are adapted to mean time.

At the head of the right hand page for each month stands first a table of the declination and southing of the principal planets, on the 1st 7th, 13th, 19th and 25th days, and below it phases of the moon.— By means of the first of these tables, the several planets may be readily found and recognized.

It was formerly customary to give the rising and setting of the sun according to apparent time, and to give the equation of time in another column. In that case it was necessary, in regulating a time-piece by the rising or setting of the sun, to apply the equation to the time of rising or setting, (as the case may be) given in the Almanac, and also 3 or 4 minutes, according to the sun's declination, on account of atmospheric refraction at the horizon. But as this matter was little understood, and attended with some trouble, these corrections were generally neglected. To remedy this inconvenience, it has been tho't best to apply both these corrections, found to the nearest minute, to the sun's rising and setting, and to give only the result, which has been done in this Register since 1837. The method of doing this may be made plain by an example. Take, for this purpose, the 23d of September. On that day, according to the old method, the sun would rise at 6 o'clock, and set at 6. On that day the equation of time is 8 minutes; or, in other words, the sun is 8 minutes faster than the clock. The time, then, by the clock, when it is 6 by the sun, is 5h 52m in the morning, and 5h 52m in the evening. Now, on account of the refraction of the earth's atmosphere, the sun appears in the horizon in the morning 4 minutes before he arrives there; and in order to have the time when the sun is seen in the herizon at his time of rising, we subtract 4m from 5h 52m, leaving 5h 48m; and for the same reason we add 4m to 5h 52m, which gives 5h 56m for the time of his setting on the 23d of September; and these are the times given in this Register.

The column marked Sun South is formed by applying the equation of time to apparent noon, and contains the times shown by a correct time-pece when the sun is on the meridian; or, in other words, when it is noon by a correct noon-mark or dial. For example, when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of January, it should be 4 minutes after 12 o'clock by the time-piece. Again-when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of November, it should be only 44 minutes after 11 o'clock by the time-piece. This column is introduced for convenience in setting time-pieces by a noon-mark.

The column marked Sun's Declination, Sun's Semi-Diameter, and Equation of time, are calculated, to the nearest second, for apparent noon, and will be understood, without further explanation, by those who may have occasion to use them.

A few sleighs were seen running as early as the middle of December, but the sleighing could not be called tolerable before the 1st of January. In January the sleighing was tolerable till the 9th, and again from the 24th to the end of the month, and also during the first 3 and last 12 days of February. In March the steighing was pretty good up to the 26th, making about 54 days of tolerable sleighing. broad Lake was closed over for one or two days about the 20th of January, but opened and did not close again till the 20th of February .-From that time it remained closed till the 10th of April. It was crossed by teams, for a little time, about the middle of March; but the ice was at no time sufficiently strong to render the crossing safe. Steamboats made their appearance on the Lake, April 12.

Eclipses of the Sun and Moon.

In the year 1854 there will be two colipses of the Sun and two of the Moon.

I. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon on the 12th of May; invisible in Vermont, of at 10h 40m in the morning.

An Aonular Eclipse of the Sun, on the 25th of May; visible at Montpelier as follows: 17m)

Beginning of the Felipse, · 'h Greatest Obscuration, 5h 330 Mean time evening. End of the Eclipse, 6h 41m)

Duration 2h 24m. Digits Eclipsed 11 1-12 on the S. Limb.

First Contact 154° from the vertex towards the right hand. Eclipse will be visible to nearly the whole of North America. line of the Annular Eclipse enters upon the continent in Oregon, and passes over it near the Northern boundary of the United States, and terminates on the Atlantic Ocean, some distance to the East of N. Y.

A Partial Eclipse of the Moon on the .th of Nov., invisible .-This Eclipse ends at the time the Moon rises, or 4h 49m evening.

A Total Eclipse of the Sun on the With of Nov., invisible ; d at 5h 12m morning. This Eclipse will be visible in the Southern Ocean, and from the Southern parts of America, Africa and Australia.

OACCANNATION ON AND CONTRACTOR OF THE CONTRACTOR

THE DREAM OF LIFE .- How few of us at the close of life can say, "I have filled and occupied the position to which I looked forward when a boy !" In the onward progress of life, how often, in some stray moment of thought and reflection, do we not find ourselves inquiring "Is this as I hoped—have I enacted my dream?" And the answer is invariably—No! We looked forward in chiedhood—and only look forward-without reflection. We build up gorgeous palaces, we sketch a career of life all gold and sunshine .- What are they, and where are they, when years seber us?

It is said that a pretty pair of eyes are the best mirror a man can shave by.

'Zactly so, and it is unquestionably the case that many a man has been shaved by them.

Hap some of our gallants been with the Israelites in the wilderness, when, for forty years, their clothes waxed not old, they would have been vexed, though their clothes were whole, to have been so long in one tasnion,

"The fools aint all dead," is an adage as true As any that I ever have read;

And I think if you'll look, you'll acknowledge with me, 'Tis a fact, that " the fools aint all dead."

BUTTER FROM COWS FED ON HAY. - The price of butter was so high last winter, that our farmers will make all they possibly can for sale. It has been customary in former years to sell the milk to milkmen, after the cows were fed on hay, from the long time it took to bring the butter, and the want of rich color in the butter after it had turned .-We have often known the patience of the whole family exhausted, by churning four or five hours; when at last the cream turned to butter, it was about the color of lard, and as tasteless as it was colorle-s. All this difficulty may be avoided by scalding the milk as it comes from the cows. It should be strained from the pail directly into a boiler placed over the fire, and should be brought nearly to a boiling heat, although not allowed to boil. Then put it in the pans in the cellar as usual, and no more difficulty will be experienced in churning than would be in June. The butter will come solid and yellow, and would hardly be known from the best butter of the season. This we have from one that has tried it. We would recommend to all who make butter at this season, to make a trial and see if it is not so .-Spindle City.

A WORD TO LITTLE GIBLS.—Who is levely? It is the girl who drops sweet words, kind remarks, and pleasant smiles, as she passes plong, who has a kind word for every boy or girl she meets in trouble, and a kind hand to help her companions out of difficulty; she never scolds, never contends, and never tenses her mother, nor seeks in any way to diminish, but always to increase her happiness. Would it not please you to pick up a string of pearls, drops of gold, diamonds, precious stones, as you pass along the street? But these are the precious stones that can never be lost. Extend a friendly hand to the friendless. Smile on the sad and dejected. Sympathize with those in trou-Strive everywhere to diffuse around you sunshine and joy. you do this, you will be sure to be beloved.

A WORD TO YOUNG MEN .- Mrs. Chisbolm says the best time to select a wife is in the morning. If a young lady is at all inclined to sulks and slatterness, it is just before breakfast.

A WORD TO YOUNG WOMEN. The best cough drop for young ladies is to drop the practice of dressing thin when they go out in the night air.

8

Boys are like vinegar-the more 'mother' there is in them, the sharper they become.

A Word to Everyboot .- If you would enjoy your meals, be good natured. An angry man can't tell whether he is eating boiled cabbage or stewed umbrellas.

He will not want time for his duty that does not want heart for it.

He who greases his wheels helps his oxen.

Hypocritical piety is double iniquity.

Idle people take the most pains.

If favors place a man above his equals, his fall places him below them.

Discreet wives have sometimes neither eyes nor ears.

Honesty is the best policy.

He who makes an idol of his interest will make a martyr of his integrity.

Honesty is more commended than practiced.

NEVER throw a stone at any one until you have looked to see whether there is a window behind, or you may have to pay too dearly for your levenge.

How immensely would our conversation be abridged, if all mankind would only speak the truth.

When I see men elected to places of trust, Of whom the truth must never be said; And others rejected, who're honest and just, I can see that "the fools aint all dead."

FEEDING SHEEF WITH OTHER STOCK.—Sheep should not run or be fed, in yards, with any other stock. Cattle hook them, often mortally. Colts tease and frequently injure them. It is often said that "colts will pick up what sheep leave." Well-managed sheep rarely leave anything—and if they chance to, it is better to rake it up and throw it into the colts' yard, than to feed them together. If sheep are not required to cat their feed pretty clean, they will soon learn to waste large quantities. But if they are over fed with either hay or grain, it is not proper to compet them by starvation to come back and eat it. They will not usless sorely pinched. Clean out the troughs, or rake up the hay, and the next time feed less.

Though clouds o'ercast our native sky,

And seem to dim the sun,
We will not down in languar lie,
Or deem the day is done;
The rund arts we loved before
No less we'll cherish now;
And crown the banquet as of yore

With Honor to the Plow.

Those who wish their cows to give large messes of milk in the winter season, should give them warm drink. The extra trouble will be more than repaid by the increased quantity of milk.

All roots should be excluded from the light during the winter, and kept in as low a temperature as can be made convenient without danger of freezing.

RECIPE FOR CELDS.—One table spoonful of molasses; two teaspoonfuls castor oil; one do. paregorie; one do. spirits camphor. Mix and take often.

A LITTLE extra labor in chopping feed for your cattle will be more than paid for by their gain.

In is not the height to which men are advanced that makes them gildy; it is the looking down with contempt upon those below them.

Ir is an excellent rule, when a man has nothing to say, to say nothing.

LET humility be the virtue of the wise man, that he may appear like the fruit-burthened bough, pressed down by the weight of his own worth.

Joy makes us grieve for the brevity of life; sorrow causes us to be weary of its length; cares and industry can alone render it support-

Is it not strange that some men hate vice and are vicious, love virtue and do not follow it?

For one to distrust constantly is most certainly paying too dear for the advantage of not being deceived.

LITLE services are willingly appreciated, for they are not worth the trouble of logistitude.

GRATITUDE is a duty none can be excused from, because it is always in our own disposal.

FRIENDSHIP is the medicine of misfortune; but ingratitude dries up the fountain of all goodness.

As daylight can be seen through the smallest holes, so do the most trifling things show a person's character.

THE error of a moment is often the s prow of a life.

A Man need not grow old unless he chooses. Keep the heart moist with the waters of cheerfulness, and you feel as full of clover and elasticity at sixty as you do at sixteen. Wrinkles come not so frequently from months and years as from avarice and discontent. When I hear men proclaiming they're temperance folks, But are voting with rummies instead—

I think if they ever deceive us again

It will be 'cause " the fools aint all dead."

When to Paune.—We hold that pruning in general, in our northern climates, is safest after the severe frosts of winter are over, immediately before the swelling of the buds. When performed early in the winter, or in the autumn, as is practiced properly in warm climates, the ends of the cut shoots dy up, shrivel and die; losing the buds intended to make leading shoots, and leaving dead points that require much labor to prune off afterwards; or if large branches are cut off, leaving a broad, fresh surface, the wood and bark dry up and require a long time to heal. We perform most of our pruning in the month of March, although a great deal of the less pruning is done in Pebruary.

"PRUNING IN THE SEASON WHEN THE LEAVES ARE ON."-The only pruning we hold to be sound, safe, and commendable, at this season, is that of the finger and thumb, in other words, pinching. quite inconsistent with good management to rear a crop of shoots and then cut them away. This can only be avoided by nipping superfluous and misplaced shoots at two or three inches growth, before they attain to woodiness. This economizes the force of the free and turns it into a channel where it will promote, instead of frustrating, the ends we are aiming at. For instance, if we plant a young tree, and have pruped it with a view to a certain form, and, contrary to our expectations, a shoot breaks out at an unexpected point, and assumes a vigorous babit, and robe all the other parts, it would evidently be unwise to tolerate this intruder until it arrives at full growth and then Too many trees are thus managed, by the neglect of cut it away. summer pruning or pinching. We admit, however, that there are cases in which the summer pruning, or entire lopping off or cutting out branches of considerable size, may be judicious and safe. stance, in the case of neglected orchard trees, in a luxurant state, with dense heads in which the fruit is deprived of air and light. such cases, branches may be thinned out, and the out surface heals over more rapidly and smoothly than at any other time. But it is unsafe to produce any very sensible diminution of foliage, as it arrests the growth of the tree.

All pruning in the growing season tends to arrest growth. Nurselymen know that a slight pruning of stocks before budding will so arrest growth as to make the bark adhere finally; when, before the pruning, it lifted feeds. It is on this principle that most all pruning, to promote fruitfulness, must be done at a point of a greater or less activity of growth. Late spring pruning is often resorted to as a means of subduing a superabundant vigor, and it has the saince effect as root pruning to a certain extent.—[Horticulturist.]

SOME women think they clean their children when they wipe the difference and rub it into the corners of their eyes. This is a mistake, and shows but a limited knowledge of that which governs soiled aprons.

Cattle should be examined in March, and if vermin are found on them, they should be exterminated as soon as possible. Young cattle are more likely to be troubled with them than old ones. Shuff is the most convenient article to apply.

Gravel is the only article fit to cast upon roads. Never apply loam.

TRUE goodness is like the glow-worm in this, that it shines most when no eyes, except those of Heaven, are upon it.

ANGER is the most impotent passion that influences the mind of man; it effects nothing it undertakes, and hurts the man who is possessed by it more than the object against which it is directed.

When grave legislators, to kick up a fuss,
No matter, if they're Loco or Fed—
Can boddly proclaim, "how they'd knife the old cuss,"
It is certain "the foo's aint all dead."

BARK-BOUND TREES.—Some over wise people have an idea that when a tree gets mossy and bark-bound—the latter but another term for want of growth, and weakness consequent upon neglected cultivation—it is only necessary to s'it the park up and down the stem with a jack knife, and it will at once spread out and grow. This is sheer nonsense. Dig about and cultivate the roots, and the bark will take care of itself; with a scraping off of the moss and a washing of the stem with ley or soap suds, or chamber slops, which is quite as good. The increased flow of the sap, induced by a liberal feeding of the roots, will do its bursting of the "hide-bound" bark, which is simply its enfeebled condition as a consequence of its poverty of root. No one thinks of turning out a bony, starved calf, in the spring, into a clover field, with the skin on its sides all split through with a knife, in order to add to its growth. And this last precaution is quite as sensible and philosophical as the other. Nature takes care of itself in these particulars. Sap in plenty is what blood is to animals Its vigorous flow reaches every part of its composition, and gives to each its proper ply and function. We can show frequent instances of a decrepid, shrivelled branch, by the throwing open and manuring of the roots, and a thorough pruning of the whole top, increasing from an inch to two inches in diameter in a single season, and without assistance as it grew, bursting and throwing off its old contracted bark as freely as the growth of a vigorous asparagns shoot would develope itself in a warm shower in May. Such nostrums are only the invention of the head to excuse the laziness of the hands. -[American Agriculturist.]

Chapped Hands.—Take three draches of gum camphor, 3 do. of white beeswax, 3 do. spermeett, and 2 ources olive oil; put them together in a cap upon the stove, where they will melt showly and form a white ointment in a few minutes. If the hands are affected, anoint them on going to bed, and put on a pair of gloves. A day or two will suffice to heal them.

CHILELAINS.—Soak the feet in warm water, made quite salt, and then rub the parts affected with palm oil, and hold the feet to the fire, drying the oil ic. One application will usuafly cure, and two trials are said to produce a cure.

la these fair fields, whose peaceful spoits

To faith and hope are given,
We'll suck the prize with honest toil,
And leave the rest to heaven.
We'll gird us to the work like men

Who own a holy vow,

And if in joy we meet again, Give Honor to the Plow.

Roads may be made in many places, before it is proper to plough fields for sowing or planting.

The white sculf is poultry is a cutaneous disorder; it is relieved by any emolicint. Compound sulphur ointment is good. If this is not to be had, goose grease, or any other that has neither flour nor salt in it will do. It arises from fever, and is generally the result of continement and lack of grass or other green foot.

It is better to suffer wrong than to do wrong.

He that cannot forgive others breaks down the bridge over which he must pass himself; for every man hath need to be forgiven, he must pass himself; for every man hath need to be forgiven.

When I see men of wealth extolled to the skies, Whom justice would drive to a shed. While talent and merit, if poor, cannot rise, I see plainly, "the fools aint all dead."

SHELTER YOUR MANURES .- "In the preparation of farm yard dang," says Nesbitt, "there are two or three points worthy to be observed. The first is, that many of these substances are soluble. the common way of preparing farm-yard dung everybody is acquainted with: a large amount of straw and excrement is allowed to rot in the midst of a quantity of water, where, instead of genial heat being produced, it is washed away by the water, which, saturated with soluble matter, is allowed to run away, as if the cleaner the straw, the better the manure. Now, it so happens that every one of these substances carried away is the most valuable; in fact, only the insoluble and most worthless are left behind. A quantity of dung thus exposed, will lose its potash, its soda, the greater part of its ammonia, and its soluble salts of lime, all of which with very little care could have been preserved, to the great advantage and profit of the farmer .- | Rural New Yorker.

DRAINING OF WET LANDS, MARSHES, &c. - This process improves the health of neighborhoods, and adds to the value of the localities in which it is practised, causing them to produce earlier and better croos.

To CLEAN SILVER .- When silver has become much tarnished. spotted or discolored, it may be restored by the following process: Having dissolved two teaspoonfuls of powdered alum in a quart of moderately strong lev, stir in a gill of soft soap, and remove the scum or dross that may rise to the surface. After washing the silver in hot water, take a sponge and cover every article all over with this mixture. Let the things rest about a quarter of an hour, frequently turning them. Next wash them off in warm soap-suds, and wipe them dry with a soft cloth. Afterwards brighten them with rouge-powder, or with whiting and spirits of wine.

The heath redress, the meadow drain. The latent swamps explore. And o'er the long expecting plain Diffuse the quickening store! Then fearless urge the furrow deep, Up to the mountain's brow, And, when the rich results you reap, Give Honor to the Plow.

INDUSTRY and economy are the two things necessary for success in life.

WHEN men try to get more good than comes from well doing, they always get less.

Don't rely too much on the torches of others; light one yourself.

When I see the poor laborer aping the rich-And all vainly attempting to tread In the path of the wealthy, by running in debt,

It is plain that "the fools aint all dead."

ORCHARDS .- Young orchards should be kept under the hoe till the trees acquire a strong, healthy growth, and begin to bear cleverly, when they may be rested with grain and grasses; and, in manuring for corn and other hoed crops, manure the trees, and hoe and dress them out as carefully as you would the corn plants.

. The farmer who is wide awake to his business should watch, as well as follow the markets. He should know what crops will sell So far as he can form a probable or approximate opinion on this point, he should conform his cultivation to it. In some places, he can produce milk to advantage; in others, butter or cheese. Again, he may be so situated that neither of these articles will pay him so good a profit as some others. Here his main crop will be hav, there fruit; here potatoes, there squishes and other vegetables. Examples might be cited to illustrate the importance of adapting crops to the markets, such as the production of the smaller fruits in the neighborhood of civies. It is not the crop on which the farmer himself sets the highest value that should be raised by him, but the crops he can produce at the least expense, and sell to the greatest profit.

Some farmers are fearful of loss, if they diverge from the beaten track. They go on, therefore, cultivating the same products, and often on the same fields, as did their tathers. Other farmers seem to entertain the opinion that unless they raise the heavier productscorn, potatoes, grain and hav-they are no longer farmers, but a sort of market gardeners.

But away with idle fears and foolish notions! Let our farmers study their true interests. Let them not stand still while others have gone ahead.

HE seldom lives frugally who lives by chance. Hope is always liberal, and they that trust in her promises make little scruple of revelling on the profits of to-morrow.

NOTHING is more silly than the pleasure some people take in 'speaking their minds.' A man of this make will say a rude thing for the mere pleasure of saying it, when an opposite behavior, full as innocent, might have preserved his friends or made his fortune.

LEARNING will accumulate wonderfully if you add a little every day. Do not wait for a long period of leisure. Pick up the book and gain one new idea, if no more. Save that one and add another as soon as you can.

You may glean knowledge by reading, but you must separate the chaff from the wheat by thinking.

Who conquers indolence conquers all the rest.

A Good character is above all things.

ALL our trials and sorrows have elements of good in them; hopeful features, which smile upon us in gentle reproof and discouragement. Now and then, as the swift shuttle passes, we catch glimpses of bright threads weaving themselves into the dark web of our affliction.

TO TAKE INK OUT OF LINEN .- Editors and clerks will learn with pleasure that to take a piece of tallow, melt it, and dip the spotted part of the linen into the melted tallow, the linen may be washed and the spots will disappear without injuring the linen.

THE whole whorld has taken the place of Rome in granting indulgence to the rich.

Good humor is the only shield to keep off the darts of the satirical railer. If you have a quiver well-stored, and are sure of hitting him between the joints of the harness, do not spare him. But you had better not bend your bow than miss your aim.

VERY few people are truly wise-but a great many are other-wise.

. When I see our mechanics turn ten hour men, And like dogs, by false demagogues led, Parading the streets, all out of employ, Then I know that "the fools aint all dead."

FOOD OF PLANTS .- It is very desirable in supplying manure to vegetables, that we should be able to give them just such food as nature specifically ordains. This, however, science alone can enable us to do. But every farmer is aware that while vegetable substances are formed by a combination of principles, or elementary matters, often numerous, and beyond their power to investigate, every individual plant is best nourished by its own substance. Thus, no manure is of greater value to the grape, than its own foliage and tendrils. haulm or tops of the potato, applied to it as a stimulant, give a degree of vigor which no other manure can impart; and so with other vegetables. Now, in supplying aliment to our crops, ought we not to keep this fact constantly in sight. Nature has herself supplied us with an obvious fule by which to regulate our operations in this important department of industrial pursuits, and it is one to which we should endeavor most sedulously to attend. By care in compounding manures, and in saving, and properly appropriating them, we may effect a vast saving, assuredly. The produce of a farm, if returned to it in manure; and in conformity with this rule, would render it fertile beyoud anything witnessed, or attainable under some of the present systems of management, which are improvident and wasteful in the last extreme. "A word to the wise," &c .- [Germantown Telegraph.

Asparagus.—The frequent use of asparagus is strongly recommended in affections of the chest and lungs. In fact, asparagus is one of the most wholesome, as well as agreeable vegetables we posses.

SUCCESS IN FARMING—ITS SECRET.—Universal success in agriculture often dooms the favored man to the envy of his fellows. It has even called down upon him the wrathful superstitions of a whole neighborhood. The great diffusion of light and knowledge, however, is dispelling the horror of "book" or scientific farming.

Platy gives a case among the Romans, where Cresinus was cited before the people to answer to a charge of sorcery, founded upon the fact of his gathering greater crops than his neighbors, from a small spot of ground. In answer, Cresinus produced his efficient and superior instruments, his well-fed oxen, and a hale young woman. Pointing to them, he exclaimed—"There, Romrns, are my instruments of witchcraft; but I cannot here show you my labors, sweats, and anxious cares." Reader, skill and energy are the witches that now bring success to the husbandman.—[Rural New Yorker.]

WHEN we sow the best of our life with appetites, we cannot but reap hates and fears. Blighting disappointment comes from thwarted greeds, from frustrated self-seeking.

THERE is no grief without some beneficent provisions to soften its intenseness. When the good and the lovely die, the memory of their good deeds, like the moonbeams on the stormy sea, lights up our darkened hearts, and lends to the surrounding gloom a beauty so sad, so sweet, that we would not, if we could, dispel the darkness that environs us.

WHEN you build selfishly, you build frailly. When your acts are hostile to the broad interests of your fellow men, they are seed which will one day come up weeds, to choke your own harvest-field.

To KILL LICE ON POULTRY .- Boil onions several hours, thicken

the water with meal, and feed the poultry.

In whatever shape evil comes, we are apt to exclaim with Hamlet, "take any shape but that!"

MEMORY is like a picture-gallery of our past days. The fairest and most pleasing of the pictures are those which immortalize the days of useful industry. When I see men disguised with brandy orgin,
And making the first gutter their bed,
While their wives and children are starving at home,
Then I'm sure that "the fools aint all dead."

ABOUT TURNIPS—SEED FOR SOWING.—Before sowing your turnip seed, steep it for six hours in strong urine, decant the liquid, and mix as much flour of sulpbur with the seed as will coat it. Seed prepared in this way will be in a great measure protected from the ravages of the turnip fly, and will germinate much quicker and more vigorously than if sown in its natural state.

The Turnic Fly —This insidious insect deposits its eggs in the fall of the year, but the eggs do not hatch till the following spring, when they are vivified by the warmth of the soil, and the young insect usually appears cotemporaneously with the plant on which it is to feed. By stirring the surface of the soil a fortuight or so before the seed is sown, and affording a liberal dressing of sulphur, house ashes, soot and salt, in equal parts, as soon as the plants appear, its ravages will be prevented in a degree. The stirring of the soil lets in the solar heat, and the eggs are developed at once, but there being no food ready, the young perish. This is thought to be the most effectual preventive known, and is almost universally adopted in Germany and Great Britain, as well as in many sections of the United States and France.—[Germantown Telegraph.]

Ir will not do to hoe a great field for little crops, nor to mow twenty acres for five loads of hay. Enrich the land; it will pay you for it.

Better farm twenty acres well, than fifty acres by halves.

A THOUGHT.—The irritating grain of sand, which by accident or incaution, has got within the shell of the oyster, incites the living inate to secrete from its own resource the means of souting the intrusive substance, and thus germinates the pearl. And is it not, or may it not be even so with troubles and afflictions in our case? We, too, may turn even sickness and sorrow into pearls of great price.

A RESPECTABLE tradesman, with a large family, having sustained a serious loss of property by the failure of some relations, for whom he had become security, was asked by a friend (after he had pulled through his liabilities) what means he had adopted to surmount difficulties which would have crashed the spirit and danped the energies of ninety-nine out of a hundred. "By two very simple expedients," was the reply: "one was to sell my horse and gig, and the other to buy two new aprons."

When Sidney was told he might save his life by telling a falsehood by denying his handwriting—he said—"When God hath brought me into a dilemma in which I must assert a lie or lose my life, He gives me a clear indication of my duty, which is to prefer death to falsehood,"

"I compare the art of spreading rumors," says John Newton, "to the art of pin-making. There is usually some truth, which I call wires; as this passes from hand to hand, one gives it a polish, another a point; others make and put on the head, and at last the pin is completed."

Ir girls would have roses in their cheeks, they must do as roses do go to sleep with the lilies, and get up with the morning glories.

THE virtue of presperity is temperance; the virtue of adversity is fortitude.

DUTY itself is supreme delight when love is the inducement to abor.

VIRIUE wants more admirers, wisdom more supplicants, truth more real friends, and honesty more practitioners.

REAL difficulties are the best cure of imaginary ones; because God helps us in the real ones, and so makes us ashamed of the others.

When I see a proud simpleton walking the street, With more hair on his face than his head, I cannot help thinking, in spite of my teeth, It is certain "the fools aint all dead."

GARDENS.—Your garden now requires a great deal of attention. If it be rich, innumerable weeds will show themselves, and if suffered to go to seed, they will propagate themselves, and give you infinite trouble in the spring. Be careful to pull up the rag weed, smart weed, purslain, bauggass, pig weed, and other troublesome vegetable intuders, and if their seed is nearly ripe, put them in a pile and burn them,—otherwise they will become scattered about your premises, and propagate.

Clean your paths and alleys of all grass and weeds, and as fast as you gather your reg-tables, smooth up your beds and patches, and put everything "ship-shape and Bristol fashion," as the sailors say.—Lay aside your pea sticks and bean poles for another year. Apply manure to your strawberry bed, if it needs it. Cover the plants with straw, coarse hay, or long manure. It will be an improvement to pass the straw or hay through a hay cutter; as it can more readily and minutely be diffused among the plants, and thus form an even coating in the Spring, beneath the plants, to keep them from dirt and sand. Try the experiment and if it does not operate well, abandon it.

Set out your hardy bulbous, and other roots; plant such trees as you wish, and if they do not leaf out in the spring, you can re-set them.

VALUABLE RECIPE.—Take plaster of Paris and mix it in a saturated solution of alum, then bake the two in an oven, the same as gypsum is baked to make it plaster of Paris, after which they are ground to powder. It is then used as wanted, being mixed up with water, like plaster, and applied. It sets into a very hard composition, capable of taking a very high polish. It may be mixed with various coloring minerals to a cement of any color, capable of imitating marble. This is a very rare recipe.

A very excellent cement for seams in the roofs of houses or for any other exposed places is made with white lead, dry white sand, and as much oil as will make it into the consistency of putty. This coment gets as hard as any stone in the course of a few weeks. The lead forms a kind of fluid with the sand; it is excellent for filling up cracks in exposed parts of brick buildings; it is also a good cement for pointing up the base of chimneys, where they project through the roof of shingled houses.

When external circumstances are favorable to our wishes, let us enjoy them with moderation and gratitude; when they are not so, let us preserve our tranquility by reconciling our minds to what is beyond our control, and learn resignation to the will of the Supreme Ruler of events.

Payson, on his dying bed, said to his daughter, "You will avoid much pain and anxiety, if you will learn to trust all your concerns in God's hands. 'Cast all your cares on Him, for he careth for you,"—But if you merely go and say that you cast your care upon Him, you will come away with the load on your shoulders."

An ill-stocked farm can no more be profitable than an empty factory. RESIGNATION.—A head properly constituted can accommodate itself upon whatever pillow the vicissitudes of fortune may place under it.

STRENGTH is ever light, and it does not fall; it leaps down, and rebounds.

But for pride, many a man who sits in the poorhouse porch to-day, might have rested in the shadow of his own household tree.

1 HOUGHT is ever unfolding. A good thinker keeps thinking,

When I see a fond mother give up her child To the goddess of Fashion, instead Of teaching it something that's useful, savs I, Depend on it, "the fools aint all dead."

HARVESTING TURNIPS .- Please allow me to suggest, through the medium of your paper, a very simple, but expeditious plan for harvest-There are several modes practiced which are tedious in the extreme. The one which we find the easiest and the best, is this: If they stand in rows, let one man go through the piece pulling two rows, the turnips of which should be laid in one low, at his right hand in going out, (if he takes the right hand side of the piece first,) and at his left hand in returning; this leaves them in an admirable position for trimming, which may be done in the following manner: Take a steel blade, (we use one in the form of a chopping knife) and insert it into the end of a common hoe handle. With this, one man can easily cut the tops off of what two or three men can pull .-The blade also may be used to cut up the turnips through the winter. The turnips then lie out clear of the tops, and of course are easily found and quickly loaded. Many people throw them into heaps, and then cut the tops with a knife. We think they will find the above way the best .- [Boston Cultivator.]

The present month is a good time to procure native grape cuttings or roots from the woods. Roots may be set where they are to remain as standards, and cuttings may be buried in earth till spring; when they may be placed in earth where they may be often watered.

TARING SHEEP FROM PASTURE.—The time for taking sheep from the pastures, must depend on the state of the weather and food. Severe frosts destroy much of the nutriment in the grasses, and they soon after cease to afford adequate nourishment. Long exposure to cold storms, with such food to sustain them, will rapidly reduce their condition. The only safe rule is to transfer them to their winter quarters the first day they cease to thrive abroad.

To preserve meadows in their productiveness, it is necessary to harrow them every second autumn, apply top dressings, and roll them.

FOUNDER IN HORES.—A correspondent in Moore's New Yorker gives the following remedy as uniformly proving successful. Add half a pint of vinegar to a gill of ground black mustaid, and administer the mixture. Then put him in action for an hour or two, or until he sweats thoroughly. This remedy must be applied within 48 hours of the toundering.

To CURE SHEEP SKINS WITH THE WOOL OX.—Take one spoonful of alum and two of salpetre; pulverize and mix well together, then sprinkle the powder on the flesh side of the skin, and lay the two flesh sides together, leaving the wool outside. Then fold up the skins as tight as you can, and hang them in a dry place. In two or three days, as soon as they are dry, take them down and scrape them with a blunt knife till clean and supple. This completes the process, and makes a most excellent saddle cover. Other skies which you desire to cure with the fur on, treat in the same way.

We can speak in favor of the above receipt. It does all it promises. Such skins make excellent mats for indoors.—[Farmer's Companion.

One who, in early years, will not look forward with virtuous forethought and resolution along the path which he is to travel, will be forced, it is probable, in maturer years, to look backward on it with compunction and sorrow.

A writer well remarks that men are often capable of greater things than they perform. They are sent into the world with bills of credit and seldom draw to their full extent.

WHEN a man readily gives ear to a calumny, he betrays fellowfeeling with the malignity whence it sprang. When I see young ladies, that swarm in our street,
With their dresses white, figured or red,
Bedabbled with mud, and thin shoes on their feet,
Then I wonder "the fools aint all dead."

TRANSPLANTING EVERGREENS, - A good article on this subject urges "that the roots while out of the ground should be moist-that they should never for a moment even become dried during the process of transplanting." Hence a rainy day is recommended in all cases, and especially where the roots are denuded. A few experiments are given. A long screen of Arbor-vitæ were set out in a stormy week, with the sod on. Six were set aside in a tub of water,-four were left exposed to a drying wind. These four only died, out of two hundred and ten. The six, after three weeks neglect in the water, all survived. Again, fifty Norway Spruces were set out on a moist day, One, by mistake, was left, and received a few hours of sunshinethis only, died. We have succeeded well with some sorts, brought a long distance, by insisting on the justant immersion of the roots in water, as soon as up-packing in wet moss, kept soaked with water -and the roots plunged in mud as soon as received, and laid in-and again mudded and the earth well settled with water, when transplanted. Removing plenty of earth on the roots-an infallible mode,-besides preserving all small fibres, keeps the roots constantly moist.

"This is a Boy I can Trust."—The following from the "Child's Paper" we would commend to the boys. Read it carefully, for it contains a wholesome lesson:

I once visited a public school. At recess a little fellow came up and spoke to the master; as he turned to go down the platform, the master said, "that boy I can trust. He never failed me." I followed him with my eye, and looked at him when he took his seat after recess. He had a fine, open, manly face. I thought a good deal about the master's remark. What a character that boy had earned! He had already got what would be worth more than a fortune. It wou'd be a passport into the best store in the city, and what is better, into the confidence and respect of the whole community.

I wonder if the boys know how soon they are rated by older people. Every boy in the neighborhood is known, and opinions are formed of him; he has a character, either favorable or unfavorable. A boy of whom the master can say, "I can trust him, he never failed me," will never want employment. The fidelity, promptness, and industry which he shows at school are in demand everywhere. He who is faithful in little will be faithful also in much. Be sure that you earn a good reputation at secool. Remember, you are just where God has placed you, and your duties are not so much given you by your teachers or your parents, as by God himself. You must render an account to trem, and you will also be called to render an account to Him.—Be trusty—be true.

A Seasonalle Hist.—Suct and laid keep better in tin, than in earthen ware. We have vessels made with covers and handles, which will hold about fifteen pounds each, five of them for a dollar. With careful usage they will last an age. Lard kept in earthen pots, penetrates the pores so that the outer surface is soon covered, and in hot weather so much will pass through as sometimes to run off upon the shelves. Now is the time to get tin cans; once tried you will never go back to the earthen pots, either as a matter of convenience or economy.—[New England Farmer.]

ALL the virtues are in peril when filial piety gives way.

HE is unfit to rule others who cannot rule himself.

THE total loss of reason is less deplorable than the total depriva-

In many cases, whon people speak of their conscience, conceit is mistaken for conscience.

To conclude, permit me in candor to say,
That when death his last arrow has sped,
(And I guess not before, if all have their way,)
In good sooth, all the fools will be dead.—Lowell Courier.

RAISING LOPPED HORNS - In answer to the inquiries of N. W. Moore, of West Turin, I would say that the horns of steers can be raised without the least damage to their growth, (the most convenient time to do it, is when they are kept in the stable,) by taking two small pulleys, place one of them directly over the front edge of the manger, high enough to be out of the way of the horns, the other at any place you may wish, the weight to hang out of the way; pass a cord over them with a loop at one end, to slip over a button on the end of the horns; at the other end attach a weight of from two to four pounds. This should be put on every night when the steers are put in the stable, and be taken off in the morning when turned out -I have never known that operation, when faithfully performed, to fail of raising one or both of the horns to any desired position, in from two to six weeks' time. Our success has been such that we consider the lopping of one or even both of the horns, no serious objection, provided they are otherwise in good shape .- [Albany Cultivator.

CLEARLINESS ABOUT THE HOUSE.—As a general rule for living nearly and saving time, it is better to keep clean than to make clean. If you are careful not to drop crumbs of bread or cake on the carpet, you will escape an untidy room, and save the trouble of cleaning it.—It working, if you make a practice of putting all the ends of your thread into a division of your work box, kept for the purpose, and never let one fall on the floor, the room will look very differently at the end of the morning, from what it does when this is not attended to.—A house is kept far cleaner when all the family are taught to wipe their feet thoroughly, on coming in from out doors, than it can be done where this is neglected. There are a thousand ways of keeping clean and saving labor and time, which it is well worth while to learn and practice.

To Bake Apples .—Sweet apples porperly baked and eaten with mits are excellent. The best method of baking text apples is, to take the fairest and largest in size, wipe them clean, if thin skinned, and pare them if the skin is thick and tough; cut out the largest portion of the core at one end, and place the fruit on well glazed earthen dishes or pans, with the end which has been cored upwards, and fill the cavity with refined powdered sugar. Then place in the oven or other apparatus for baking until sufficiently cooked. Then take out, and when cold they are perfectly delicious.

MILCH cows, in winter, should be kept in dry, moderately warm, but well ventilated quarters; be regularly fed and wattered three times a day, salted twice or thrice a week, have clean beds, curried daily, and in addition to their provender, they should receive succulent tood morning and evening.

House your cattle these cold nights.

In every situation, and on every occasion, study to be firm, resigned, moderate in your desires, temperate in your enjoyments; and, by avoiding the pursuit of defusive pleasure, you will secure tranquility.

Dean yently with those that stray. Draw back by love and persuasion. A kiss is worth a thousand kicks. A kind word is more valuable to the lost than a mine of gold. Think of this and be on your guard, ye who would chase to the grave an erring brother.

It is incumbent on every one to make himself useful.

SPEARING without thinking, is like shooting without taking aim.
The duties of each day should be so faithfully performed that we may close our eyes as night at we would wish to open them in the spirit world if God should call us away before morning.

Weather Table.

FOR FORETELLING THE WEATHER, THROUGH ALL THE LUNATIONS OF EACH YEAR FOREVER.

E	CH IZAR FOREVER
If the new, first quarter		,
full moon, or list quar- ter, happens,		IN WINTER.
in the morning,	Pair.	Hard frost, unlesss wint is S. or W.
Between 2 and 4 A. M.	"old, freq't showers.	Snowy and stormy.
. 4 and 6	R in.	Rain.
6 nd 8	Wand and Rain.	Stormy.
66 8 and 10 66	Changeable,	W. Snow, if E.
" 10 and 12 "	Frequent showers.	Cold and high wind.
At 12, M., and 2 P. M.,		Snow or rain.
Between 2 and 4 ".	Changeable.	Fair and mi'd.
4 and 6 6	Fair.	Fair.
	Fair, if wind N. W., Rainy, if S. or S. W.	F'r andfrosty, if w'd is N.orN. E.; rain or snow, if S.or S.W.
	Ditto.	Ditto.
" 10 and 12 ".	Fair.	Fair and flosty.

Observations -- 1. The nearer the moon's changes, first quarter, full, and jast quarter, are to midnight, the fairer will it be during the next seven days.

2. The space for this calculation occupies from ten at night till two next morning.

3. The nearer to midden, or moon, the phases of the moon happens the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next 7 days.

4. The space for this colembia occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the su umer, though they affect spring and autumn acarly in the same r tio.

5 The moon's change, first quarter, fuil, and last quarter, happening during six of the afternoon hours, i e., from four to ten, may be I llowed by fair weather; but this is mostly dependant on the wind, us is noted in the table.

6. Though the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring, yet, in the main, the above observations will apply to those periods also.

7. To prognosticate correctly, especially in those cases where the wind is concerned, the observer should be within sight of a good vine, where the four cardinal points of the heavens are correctly placed.

The above tible was originally formed by Dr. Hir chil and is now published with some alterations founded on the experience of Dr. Adam Clark.

GREEN MOUNTAIN HEROES OF '76.

With Sketch of the Early History of Vermont.

In one vol. 12mo.; illustrated by a fine steel engraving of Kinney's Heroic Statue of Col. Allen; a profile and autograph, &c. The work embraces the early career of the Hero of Ticonderoga—his bold incursion into Cenada; his capture, imprisonment and transportation to England in irons, with his brave companions: his cruel treatment by the British, as related by himself; and other sketches of his military and private life and adventures, and those of his neighboring companies, of Putnam, Stark, and the "Green Mountain Boys; with the most interesting portions of our Revolutionary history with which they were connected; some account of Col. Allen's singular views of religion, &c. &c.

BY H. W. De PUY,

Author of "Kosuth and his Generals," and "Louis Napoleon and who has visited the home and scenes of Col. Allen's life, and had access to valuable official and private documents, his own writings and history, and facts from his family.

DR. CONINE'S SYRUP

GINSENG AND MALVA.

This medicine depends more upon its own virtue and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public. In China it is the potent and effectual remedy for

AFFECTIONS OF THE LUNGS.

but what will particularly attract atten ion it its astonishing DIS-SOLVENT POWER, by which it at once removes ALL PILEGM or ext ancous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore ANTI-EXPECTORANT, and from attention of trial here, it is now offered as Nature's kindest remedy, for the removal of Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all Coughs,

by precipitating the phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration. It is aromatic, and increases the general warmth possessing the exhibitanting properties of the TEA PLANT, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all INDIA beyond the Ganges, while as a dyspeptic remedy and appetiser, it has probably no equal in the whole vegetable kingdom. The interesting history of the GINSENG, &c., is to be had in pumphlets, gratisIn Quart Bottles-SI per bottle- ix bottles for $5.

Opinions of the Press.

STRUP OF GINSENG AND MALVA.—In cases of Consumption, even where the lungs have become seriously, and almost fatally affected, this preparation has performed a quick and easy cure. In the early stages of consumption it is a sure remedy, and has received the universal approval of the medical faculty of this city.

Prepared and sold by Wilson, Fairbank & Co., Nos. 43 & 45 Hanover street .- Bee.

The Great Remedy.—We have examined many compounds in the course of a long professional life and we are satisfied that the Syrup of Ginseng and Malva, prepared by Dr. Conine, is the most safe and certain remedy for all diseases of the lungs that have cometo our notice. Sold wholesale and retail by Wilson, Fairbank & Co, Nos. 43 & 45 Hanover street, and by druggists generally.—Times.

THE SYRUP OF GINSENG.—Every age and century has its wonderful discovery and great men. This honor for the 19th, must, and probably will be accorded to Dr. Conine, for his discovery of the "Syrup of Ginseng," so unrivalled in its cure of Coughs and Colds. For sale by Wilson, Fairbank & Co, 43 & 45 Hanover street .- Journal.

THE CLERGYMAN'S FRIEND.—Before the introduction of the famous Syrp of Ginseng and Malva into America, our clergymen were constantly afflicted with throat diseases. Since the Ginseng and Malva has attained its popularity, and is generally used by all clergymen, we heat of but few complaints of this kind. This excellent compound is sold by Wilson, Fairbank & Co., Nos. 43 & 45 Hanover street, nearly opposite the American House, at wholesale and retail, and by respectable druggists at retail.—Journal.

An interesting Narrative of a Poor Soldier.

In the year 1822, in the little village of Charlestown, Mass., resided a poor but worth y man, who followed the trade of curries or diesses of hides and leather, his venerable form showing the remains of great endurance, physical strength, and calm mien, attracted the attention of his neighbors, who were anxious to learn his story, and the history of his former life; but the? otherwise cheerful and pleasant, on this subject he was reserved and si ent. It chanced that this o'd gentieman fell sick and was waited upon by a c'ergyman who she wed him every attention his little means would afford. It was during his intervals of repose he communicated to this good man this listery of his past life, and the reason why he left his a tive country. It seems he was a Russian of good family, and had served in the arry of the Czar, during the celebrated campaigns of Napoleon; after the retreat from Moscow he followed on with the victorious army, and witnessed and suffered all the trials of that celebrated campaign. ; o diers wounded, dying and froze, strewed the path of the retreating army, and it was the province of the Russian General to save the lives of these as well as drive before him the army of the French. was during this celebrated retreat that this soldier wi nessed the good effect of a simple remedy in the hands of the Russian Surgeon, app'ied to the wounded and dying, which had wonderfut efficacy and effect. Suffering from wounds himse f, he soon derived the same benefit, and though incaparitated from soldier's duty, he was commanded to follow on in the Surgeon's staff, and collect the materials for this simple preparation, which were found in the track of the army; thus this poor soldier came in possession of the secret of its make, and dying he gave this recipe of its manufacture to this good clergymen; so nafter this clergyman removed to Poston to accept the post of City Missionary, and in visiting the poor and suffering he bethought him of this poor soldier's ointment, and found that it did them good. For ten years, this ointment was given away, but as the c'ergyman's means were limited and his friends increased, he tound the only plan for him was to put a small price on each bex to remunerate him for making it. Finally this good clergyman died and left this recipe to his family, who have continued making it, and have employed Messrs, REDDING & Co., No. 8 State Street, Boston, their agents for its sale, and fixed the price of each box at '5 cents; each box has an engraved label, which is duly copy-righted according to law, and the public are cautioned against buying any but the original article, which may be had of Smith & Pierce and B. To County and Town Superintendents, | NEW YORK, Dec., 1854. School Committees, Teachers, &c. 60 John Street. GENTLEMEN: - We take the liberty of sending you a copy of and of requesting your careful examination of the same. A celebrated Teacher and County Superintendent writes thus :-"Its plan I regard as wholly natural, though entirely unique. meets the child upon his own level, and seeks to elevate him gently, and by his own consent. In the execution of this plan I think the author has been exceedingly felicitous, and hope that the work may have both a speedy and extensive introduction." Another noted teacher, who now stands at the head of a celebrated Normal School, speaks thus: " My Teachers have examined every line of it, and I am nearly through it. It is just right. I want the book as soon as possible for use in my school, and at the end of this term I will show the public its rare merits at my examination." Another experienced Teacher says, after taking a class through the book: "In all my experience in teaching Arithmetic, never was I so gratified in the recitations as with this novel work. The mind seems to seize so readily on the spirited questions, that they will not be easily forgotten. work is practical, original, comprehensive, instructive, and interest ing; is well stored with useful information, and is calculated by drill questions and reviews, to make students ready reckoners, and so to fit them for the active business of life."

These favorable opinions, its excellent letter-press, its numerous engravings, and its very low price, give the publishers confidence to believe that it is, in reality, the best book on the subject before the A supply of the work can be procured through your resident Booksellers or Merchants, from any of the principal Book Establish nents in the large cities.

Explanations of the Astronomical Department.

By due attention to the following explanations, all the Astronomical Calculations in this work will be readily understood.

Time is regarded either as mean or apparent.

A mean day is the average length of the days in the year, and consists of 24 hours, as measured by a clock which runs uniformly, and which measures 365 times 24 hours in 365 natural days.

An apparent day is the time from the sun's leaving the meridian ou one day, till its arrival on the meridian on the next day; and this time is not always the same, being sometimes more and sometimes less than 24 hours.

Mean time, then, is that shown by a well regulated cleck; and epparent time is that shown by a correct sun-dial; the difference between these is called the equation of time.

The equation of time depends upon two causes, the obliquity of the ecliptic to the equator, and the eccentricity of the earth's orbit; both of which tend to produce an inequality in the daily increments of the sun's right ascension, while the earth's motion on its axis is perfeetly uniform. Mean and apparent time coincide only four times inthe year, viz: April 15th, June 15th, August 31st, and Dec. 24th; and the greatest difference between mean and apparent time is on the 2d of November, and amounts to a little more than 141-4 minutes.

With the exception of the sun's declination and semi-diameter, and the equation of time, which are for the instant of opparent noon at Montpelier, all the calculations are adapted to mean time.

At the head of the right hand page for each month stands first a table of the declination and southing of the principal planets, on the 1st, 7th, 13th, 19th and 25th days, and below it phases of the moon .-By means of the first of these tables, the several planets may be readily found and recognized.

It was formerly customary to give the rising and setting of the sun according to apparent time, and to give the equation of time in another column. In that case it was necessary, in regulating a time-piece by the rising or setting of the sun, to apply the equation to the time of rising or setting, (as the case may be) given in the Almanac, and also 3 or 4 minutes, according to the sun's declination, on account of atmospheric refraction at the horizon. But as this matter was little understood, and attended with some trouble, these corrections were generally neglected. To remedy this inconvenience, it has been tho't best to apply both these corrections, found to the nearest minute, to the sun's rising and setting, and to give only the result, which has been done in this Register since 1837. The method of doing this may be made plain by an example. Take, for this purpose, the 23d of Sep-On that day, according to the old method, the sun would rise at 6 o'clock, and set at 6. On that day the equation of time is 8 minutes; or, in other words, the sun is 8 minutes faster than the clock. The time, then, by the clock, when it is 6 by the sun, is 5h 52m in the morning, and 5h 52m in the evening. Now, on account of the refraction of the earth's atmosphere, the sun appears in the horizon in the morning 4 minutes before he arrives there; and in order to have the time when the sun is seen in the horizon at his time of rising, we subtract 4m from 5h 52m, leaving 5h 48m; and for the same reason we add 4m to 5h 52m, which gives 5h 50m for the ime of his setting on the 23d of September : and these are the time en in this Register.

4 COMMENCEMENT OF THE SEASONS, FASTS AND FESTIVALS, ETC.

The column marked Sun South is formed by applying the equation of time to apparent noon, and contains the times shown by a correct time-p ece when the sun is on the meridian; or, in other words, when it is noon by a correct noon-mark or dial. For example, when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of January, it should be 4 minutes after 12 o'clock by the time-piece. Again-when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of November, it should be only 44 minutes after 11 o'clock by the time-piece. This column is introduced for convenience in setting time-pieces by a noon mark.

The column marked Sun'. D climation, Sun's Semi-Diameter, and Equation of time, are calculated, to the accrest second, for apparent noon, and will be understood, without further explanation, by those who may have occasion to use them.

Sleighs were first out the 25th of Dec., and they continued to run till January 3d. There was no more sleighing till the 25th of Feb., and that ended the 5th of March, making only about two weeks of tolerable sleighing during the winter. The night is mother of the day,
The winter of the spring;
And ever upon old decay
The greenest mosses cling.
Behind the cloud the starlight lurks;
Thro'showers the sunboams fall;
And God, who loweth a 1 his works,
Has left his hope with all.

LIGHT FOR ANIMALS .- We are often impressed with the gross neglect of otherwise intelligent men, in not securing abundant light for animal life. To the animal and the plant alike, and to each and every human being, light as well as warmth, is absolutely indispensable. Put a plant in a cellar and it will grow up colorless, flexible, healthless. Put it in a dark place, and yet give it air, and it will hardly do better. Yet, people will attempt to bring up animals imprisoned and housed. In some public remarks we had occasion to make, we stated that a pig would not grow, if deprived of light. soon after met an old gentleman, and he had lived sixty years without discovering the fact, and the first words he addressed to us were: "Well, you told me why my pigs would not grow. Two years ago, I put in a snug place in my barn, six pigs. It was warm but dark. and they were fed through the floor. In the spring, I took them out and they looked like rats. They hadn't grown a pound." A farmer of our acquaintance was some time since driving a fine mare. We asked him how she became blind. He told us that he put her and two other three year old horses into a perfectly dark stable in the fall, and in the spring, soon after they came to light, they went stone blind. These illustrations show conclusively, that light is necessary to every living and growing thing. Our barns are not light enough. Our houses, too many of them, are too destitute of light. Parents pursue a blind and benighted course, when they encourage their children in living housed and imprisoned, when they encourage them in enveloping their faces under impenetrable veils, lest their cheeks should blister. You cannot blister the cheek of a cherry or a peach. Better remember that the ruddy glow of priceless health, and the life and animation that irradiate beauty, can never exist in perfection unless in full and free exposure to air and sun light .- [Toledo Blade.

A cheerful temper, a kindly heart, and a courteous tongue, cannot be too carefully or too sedulously cultivated. On the other hand, a disposition to be gloomy and captious, to be bitter and illnatured, to be cynical and slanderous, cannot be too cautiously avoided. The one habit, too, is as apt to grow and become powerful as the other. If we permit ourselves to look constantly on the dark side, and to view every thing with distrist and jealousy; we shall seldom be able to realize and enjoy any thing that is bright, beautiful, kindly or generous. There is, moreover, nothing so calculated to impair health, deface beauty, and take away from the human countenance all those rosy and shining lights which are so admirably suited to brighten and adorn, as a disposition to fret, vex, and be miscrable. The soul is thus reflected through the human countenance, just as a thought is often mirrored in the eye.

To REMOVE MARKS FROM TABLES.—Hot dishes sometimes leave whiti-h marks on varnished tables, when set, as they should not be, carelessly upon them. To remove it, pour some lamp oil on the spot and rub it hard with a soft cloth. Then pour on a little spirits, and tub it dry with a 20ther cloth, and the white mark will disappear, leaving the table as bright as before.

Clay is now proved to be the best means of retaining manure. Sewerage water filtered through it comes out destitute of smell, and what is better, minus the valuable salts of ammonie, alkaline, phosphates, and other soluble fortilizers, which are retained by the clay. Give me the home where kindness seeks.

SOAKED CONTROL HORSES.—One of the most successful and judicious furners in the vicinity of Baltimore, effects a saving of from one-third to one-balf of his core, hy soaking it thoroughly before feeding. His method is this:—Two empty vessels, hogsheads, or something similar, are placed in his cellar, where there is no danger from frost, and filted to the chime, with ears of corn. He then pours in water till the receptacles are filled. When well soaked, the corn is ded to the horses, and when the contents of one cask are consumed, it is again filled, and the animals fed from the other. Even cobs, soaked in a similar manner, but in pickle instead of pure waver, are good, especially if the usual allowance of salt is withhold. The corn cob contains a large questity of nutriment, and is by far toe valuable to be thrown away.

USEFUL INVENTION FOR DRAUGHT HORSES,—Mr. W. Rice, Boston, Lincolnshire, has patented an invention which will tend greatly to decrease the labor of draught horses. It consists of a spring link, formed of steel or India rubber, attached to the traces, hame chains or any part of the harness; so that instead of a horse taking a dead pull at starting and frequently coming down, the load is gradually admitted to the shoulder, by which means the collar forms a complete cushion, and prevents both sore shoulders and broken kness.—[English paper.

To CHRE FOUNDERS.—The Ohio Cultivator gives the following recipe for curing the founder—more correctly speaking the water-founder:—Bleed the horse from the neck as long as he can stand up; then make him swallow one pint of salt; anoint well amound the edges of his hoofs with spirits of turnentine; keep him from drinking too much water, and he will be well in a few hours."

How TO TELL THE HENGHE TO WHICH A COLT WILL ATTAIN WHEN FULL GROWN.—When the foal is three or four weeks old, or as soon as it is perfectly straightened up, measure from the junction of the hoof with the hair, to the middle of the kyce joint, and the number of inches will be the number of hands in height to which the colt will grow. Thus, if the measure is 16 inches, he will be 16 hands high. This rule, it is said, will hold good in nine cases out of ten.—[Indiana Farmer.

Home.—Love watches over the craile of the infant—over the couch of the aged—over the welfare of each and all; to be happy, man retires from the out-door world to his home. In the household circle the troubled heart finds consolation, the disturbed finds rest, the joyeus finds itself in its true element. Pious souls, when they speak of death, say that they go home. Their longing for heaven is to them a home-sickness. Josus also represents the abodes of eternal happiness under the picture of a home, a father's house. Does not this tell us that the carthly home is appointed to be a picture of heaven and a foretaste of that higher home?—[National Magazine.

We believe in a clean kitchen, a neat wife in it, a spinning piano, a clean cuphoard, and a clean conscience,

DEADENING TIMBER.—When the bark slips freely in June, July, or August, is the best time to girdle trees. Cut the small growth three feet above the ground; the roots do not sprout, and the stumps are more easily removed.

Some beings, wheresoe'r they go,
Find nought to please, or to exalt—
Their constant study but to show
Perpetual medes of finding fault.
Oh! happy they who happy make—
Who, blessing, still themsolves are blest!
Who something spare for others' sake,
And strive in all things for the best.

MILKING COMS.—To insure the greatest yield of milk from a cow, she should not only be well fed and well tended, but also well milked. Now it is not every man or every maid, who can squeeze fluid from a cow's udder, that is a good milker.

It is important in the first place, that a cow's bag should be clean. For this purpose, when the animal is stabled—as they are, or should be during the winter, on all farms, and throughout the year by many—let the whole udder be washed with cold water, and immediately thoroughly dried with a towel.

The udder now being cooled and cleansed, we are ready to begin miking. If the cow be well trained, she will now extend backward her hind l-g for your convenience, without a word accompanied with the word of command 'hoist.'? They understand what is required of them, and need only, at times, a gentle reminder. Many cows that hold up their milk to a cross milker, well give down freely to one more gentle. And the sack of grain, or other weight across the loins, which is well used to compel the animal to give down, would be uncalled for if a kind hand had always drawn her milk, or could be dispensed with if gentleness takes hold of the teats.

When fairly seated it is of the utmost consequence that the milking should be done without violence, and as rapidly as possible. Many persons pride themselves on their fast milking, jerk the teats violently, and others will cause them to become sore by the pressure of their finger nails. The best milkers scarcely move their elbows, but with the upper portion of the hand grasping and compressing the teats, force the jet of milk by the pressure for the lower fingers.

In fine, we recommend to these who want much milk and good milk, kindness and cleanliness .- | Journal of Agriculture.

Wash for the Head.—A mother wsks, "What is an efficient remedy for removing danduff in the hair, as she has an objection to using an ivery comb?" This objection is well founded as it increases the evil. The following wash, applied with a small piece of flanned to the roots of the hair, will be found excellent:—Three parts of oil of almonds; one part of lime water; to be shaken up well, and can be procured of any chemist.—[Lady's Book.

Young Mechanics, who would prosper in business, have only two rules to live up to, to insure success. First do your work as your customer wishes to have it done. The other rule is to do it by the time you promised to have it done. The two rules complied with and there is not much danger, if any, of a failure.

Man is like a snow-ball. Leave him lying in idlenes against the sunny face of prosperity, and all the good that is in him mehs like fresh butter in the dog days; but kick him round, and he eathers strength at every revolution, until he grows to an avalanche. To make a figure in the world, you mustkeep moving.

To Remove Iron Spots on Marbie. Mix equal quantities of spirits of vitrol and lemon juice, shake it well; wet the spots with the mixture, and in a few minutes rub with a soft linen until they are completely effaced.

It is the great privilege of poverty to be happy and unenvied, to be healthful without physic, and secure without a guard.

You may depend upon it, that he is a good man whose intimate friends are all good.

Some murmur when their sky is clear And wholly bright to view, If one small speck of dark appear In their great heaven of blue; And some with thankful love are filled. If but one streak of light, One ray of Goa's great mercy, gild The darkness of the night,

THE SWEET POTATO.—It is a low, trailing, herbaceous vine; the stem rarely twining; leaves heart-shaped, hairy, angular, line veined, smoothish; flowers large, white and purprish, disposed in clusters upon axidary loaf stalks. In its general appearance when growing the plant resembles the Convolvus Purpurea, Common Morning Glory, though of course not a climber like the latter. The roots are fleshy and spirdle-shaped, of different colors, yellow, red or white, and attain a large size, from one to several pounds weight.

In warm climates, where the soil is suited to it, the culture of the plant is very easy. In the Middle States and New England it may be propagated by plicing the small tubers in hot-bads, to sprout sometime in April, say from the middle of the month. When the sprouts have attained the length of three to five inches, they are of suitable size for planting. Break them off carefully, without disturbing the potatoes in the bed, as they will then continue to throw out new sprouts; set them out from the middle of May to the first week in June, in rows four feet apart, and about two feet in the row, or the rows may be equidistant, so as to admit of ploughing both ways. The soil shoul be well man-Only one plant should be set in a hill. ured, light and sandy. The trailing vines must not be allowed to strike root. The tubers which may be boiled, baked or roasted, are sweet, very agreeable to the taste, and are considered much more nutritious and easy of digestion than the common potato. Sometimes the tender shoots are boiled and eaten.

Wash for Trees.—Heat one pound of sal soda to redness in an iron pot, and dissolve it in a gallon of water. This wash will take off all the moss and dead bark, and kill all the insects on all fruit trees or grape vines, and make them as smooth as though polished, and make old trees bear anew. Never whitewash a tree.

To PRESERVE GIRDLED TREES.—Take out a block of wood extending into the bark above and below the girdle, and take from the body or limb of another tree a block corresponding in size and shape, with the bark on, and adjust it in the place, and bind it there, on the principle of engrafting. This plan has proved completely successful.

MILDEW ON GOOSEBERRIES.—Samuel Edwards, La Moille, Ill., states that for several years his gooseberry bushes were badly affected by mildew. Last year he gave them a very severe prunning, mulched with coarse hay, top dressed the soil with well rotted barn yard manure, salt and leached ashes, and he has no mildew.

To CLEAN HAIR AND CLOTHES BRUSHES — Put a tablespoonful of pearlash into a pint of boiling water. Having fastened a bit of sponge to the end of a stick, dip it into the solution, and wash the brush with it; carefully going in among the bristles. Next pour ever it some clean hot water, and let it lie a little while. Then drain it, wipe it with a cloth, and dry it before the fire.

When you see a ferce down put it up, if it remains until to merrow the cattle may get over. What ought to be done to-day, do it, for to-morrow it may rain.

A Farmer, (says Cole,) dismissed a hand because in his absence, he set only nine trees in a day. The farmer set out the remaining ninety-one of the hundred himself the next day. The result was that the nine bore more fruit the first year of bearing than all the others.

In palaces are hearts that ask In eiscentent and pride. Why life is such a weary task And all good things denied; And hearts in poorest hut- admire How love has in their aid (Love that not ever seems to tire,) Such rich provision made.

LARGE PUMPRING.-Having had good success the past season in raising fine large pumpkins, I will give you my plan and experiments. The ground plented was a warm, clayey loam, descending to the south. I planted the 20th of Blay, with corn and one and two pumpkin seeds in a hill; used about one table-spoonful of plaster or gypsum to the hill. The field was a clover sod, plowed once and harrowed three times. When the vines commenced to run, say one foot in length, I gave them a careful hoeing. After the fruit was well set, or some was six to eight inches in diameter, I covered the stem, with moist, loose soil; the result was, that roots directly from the stem of the pumpkin were formed, and the fruit derived sustenance and plenty of it, judging from the size and weight, which was from eighty to ninety pound .- Plowboy.

BONES IN THE GARDEN .- We are, every scason, discovering fresh evidence of the great value of bones as a fertilizer. We have to-day beer removing some pie plant, seedling of the Victoria, that were set out with bones under them last spring. The roots had, in many instances, completely penetrated the hones, so that they were lifted with the roots. They help the form tion of small fibrous roots, and make the growth of the plants very vigorous. In removing a grape vine last season, we noticed the same fact. We now consider bones or their equivalent, as indispensable in the garden. We put from a half to a whole bushel in every hole in which we set a fruit tree.

LIME DUST ON PLANTS -- An English orchardist, whose eichard occupies 50 acres, protects his trees from caterpillars, and other insects by shaking over the young foil ge quick lime pulverised and sifted through a fine sieve. He puts the lime into a tin conical canister perforated at one end, and with a long hand e. The time for using it is in the dew of the morning, or whenever the leaves are damp -He has found it very effectual.

Ashes for Corv .- A farmer in the Rural New Yorker recommends ashes for young corn plants, in preference to plaster. He says. "I had a few bushels of plaster which I put upon the corn as fir as it would go. I then skipped a few rows, and upon the remainder put unlo ched ashes, (a small handful to the hill.) The result was, that corn upon which I put pothing was not so goed as that upon which I put plaster, and that upon which I put plaster not so good as that on which I put ashes. As the soil was as nearly alike as possible, the same quality of seed planted at the same time, receiving the same care, I can account for the difference in no other way than by reasociag that plaster is better than nothing, ashes better than plaster." We trink if he had mix-d the ashes and plaster half and half, he would have found a still better result. We have seen this repeatedly tried, and the effect was excellent - Germentown Telegraph. For Hover or BLOAT, caused by cating clover, give a tea-cup half full of eleratus dissolved in a pint of warm water, and turned down a cow from a junk bott'e. Perbaps an ox might need a larger dose. A few spoonfuls of tar put in the throat by the aid of a smooth stick, will also give relief.

A CHEAR AND EXCELLENT MANURE FOR GOSSEBERRIES.—A French nurseryman says that exhausted tan bark speeds on the surface around the reets of the goodeberry bushed is an effectual remody for caterpill us. A continuity bushed in the formal of the continuity of the cont

We gather them in—the bright green leaves,
With our scythes and rakes to-day;

And the mow grows big, as the pitcher heaves
His lifts in the swelt ring bay.
O ho! a field! for the mower's scythe,

Hath a ring as of destiny, Sweeping the earth of its burthen lithe,

As itsmgs in wrathful glee.

To Give a Five Coloring to Mandgany.—Let the tables be washed perfectly clean with vinegar, having first taken out any ink stains there may be with spirit of salt, but it must be used with the greatest care, only touching the parteffected, and instantly washing it off. Use the following liquid:—Into a pint of cold drawn linseed oil, put four penny worth of alkanet root, and two penny worth of isee pink in an earthern vessel, let it remain all night, then, stirring well, rub some of it all over the table with a linen rag; when it has lain some time, rub it bright with linen cloths.

To INSURE HEALTH FOR CHILDREN.—Give them plenty of milk; plenty of flannel; plenty of air, and let them have plenty of sleep; and they will seldom, if ever, ail anything. That is, milk is their best diet; they must be warmly clothed; must be much out of doers; and must be always allowed to sleep on till they awaken of their own accord.

To PRESERVE YOUNG CHICKENS.—Keep them in coops, raised some inches from the ground until they are six or eight weeks old—if they droop after this, the next hour of warm sunshine will bring them up again. A correspondent mays the last time he tried to raise them on the ground, he lost 59 out of 60; he has often raised 60 or 70 at a time since, without losing one, simply by cooping them away from the ground until six weeks old.

WORKING OXEN.—When oxen refuse to work equally well on cither side, or when they pull off against each other, yelke them on the side you wish them to work, and turn them out to feed in that way; they soon become accustomed to it, and work afterwards en either side alike.—American Farmer.

In feeding with corn sixty-nine pounds ground goes as far as one hundred pounds in the kernel.

Corn meal should never be ground very fine. It injures the richness of it.

Turnips of small size have double the nutricious matter the large ones have.

Ruta Baga is the only root that increases in nutricious qualities as it increases in size.

Money skilfully expended in drying land by draining or otherwise, will be returned with interest.

To cure the scratches on a horse, wash the legs with warm soap suds, and then with beef brine. Two applications will cure the worst case.

Timber cut in the spring and exposed to the air with the bark on, decays much sooner than if cut in the fall.

Experiment show apples to be equal to potatoes to improve hogs, and decidedly preferable in fattening cattle.

We need hardly say that the most scrupulous cleanliness is required in all the operation of butter making. Cream is more easily ainted by n xious gases than almost any other substance.

BIBL CALENDAR, L.D. LO. LO. LO.

Whiskey is the key by which many gain an entrance into our prisons and almshouses.

The money spent for Port supped by partly gents, would support many a poor family.

We gather them in—the nodding plumes
Of the yellow and bended grain,
And the flash of our sickles? light illumes
Our march o'er the vanquished plain.
Anon we come with the steed-drawn car—
The cunning of modern laws,
And the acres stoop to its clarging jar,
As it reeks its hungry jaws.

A Weather Glass. For years I have been in the habit of watching the condition of the gum in my wife's camphor bottle, which stands in our bed-room. And when not disturbed it makes a capital weather glass. It answers my purpose as well as one that would cost me §25 or §50. When there is to be a change of weather from fair to windy or wet, the thin flakes of the gum will rise up, and sometimes when there was to be a great storm I have seen them at the top. When they settle down clearly at the bottom then we are sure of grand weather. Any farmer who watches his wife's camphor bottle for a season, will never have occasion to watch birds or locusts or ants for indications of a change in the weather.

An Example.—America is not as powerful yet as Spain was three centuries ago. Spain rose, moreover, as America has done, through the reign of free institutions. She fell by entering on a course of policy similar to that which is now proposed for America. So long as Spain honored labor and made war only in a just cause, so long she prospered; but when she lenther sword to wanton conquest, and took to living on the spoils of captive nations, she began immediately to decline. It is a prognant warning. A great law is, that if either nations or individuals neglect productive industry, and seek instead to shine by unlawful gains, they inevitably go to ruin.—Phila. Ledger.

Of Disunion the celebrated Fisher Ames on a said: "I wish it was a part of the catechism to teach youth that it cannot be. An Englishman thinks he can beat two Frenchmen. I wish to have Americans think the Union so indissoluble and integral that corn would not gr. w nor the pot holl if it should be dissolved."

RECIPE FOR PICKLING BUTTERSUTS—The butternuts should be githered about the middle of July. Put them in a strong brine and let them stand ten or twolve days. Then sook them for two or three days in weak vinegar. Then scrape them well, and to every peck of butternuts add an onnee of clowes and half an onnee of whole black popper. Put them into a small mouthed jar and cover with strong vinegal. They will be fit for use in about four weeks. They are a very nice pickle, and well reprise he halve of saking.

Bush your Tonavers.—His just as sensible of grow mens without bushing them as it is tematoca. You may bush in a slovenly sort of a way, if you have please if it is a superfixed but you can grow either twice as well as starting and them, and tomate are decidedly batter caver by the starting of them, and to what is a short bush set thanks in the properties of the formation to a recent general temperature limits and superfixed but the transfer of the starting to our experience. Leaves absorb and give out moisture, and inhale air; they are, consequently, the most important organs of a plant, and if they are destroyed or injured the whole plant suffers.

The reputation fond of cocktails is not a feather in any man's cap.

We gather them in—the mellow fruits
From the shrub, and vine, and tree,
With their russet, and golden, and purple suits,
To garnish our treasury,
And each hath a juicy treasure stored
All aneath its tinted rind,
To cheer our guests at the social board,
When we leave our cares behind.

Access usually offers the most favorable season for ditching swamp leads, and for throwing out a supply of meadow mod. There is searcely a farm but needs ditching sensewhere. We can refer the reader to various tracts of land where their owners have been operating in greater or less degree for ten years, in order to bring low places into the production of good grasses natural to upland. But they have failed up to this time, though they have toiled annually to necomplish the desired object. The heads have been active while not a ray of scientific skill has guided their operations. The perusal of a single chapter of a good work on Draining would show them how futile are such efforts against the laws of nature.

Those who have not used meadow muck will be surprised to find what a rapacious absorbent it is. If thrown out now and left where it may drain, it will become quite light in the course of two or three months, and then may be hauled at a trifling expense.

LAYING LANDS TO GRASS.—August too, is a most favorable season for this operation. This practice is now generally well understood, On lands naturally too most for hoed crops, it is a pleasant and profitable way of bringing it back to yield good grass crops, to plow deeply, manure well, pulverize freely, and seed liberally; and if well done in this mouth the young crop will gain sufficient strength to resist the freezing of winter.

SAVING GRASS SEEDS.—Sufficient attention is not given to the saving of seeds. It is not a difficult matter, even without the aid of a machine for the purpose, to gather all the clover seeds that may be wanted on a farm of common size. It may be taken from the second crop, and threshed and cleaned up as are other seeds. So with herd's grass,—lcave a squire of a few rods where the heads are large, and where no weeds are intermixed with the grass, and at the proper time cut, thresh and clean it up. Every dollar saved in this and various other ways by the farmer, will give his cash account a favorable aspect at the end of the year. Indeed a little pains will give the small farmer aff the seeds he requires, of every kind, so that he need not expend a shilling of money for them. Also, carefully preserve all other seeds which will be needed for another year's use.

How to Exclude Fairs.—According to Spence, the antomologist, they may effectually be excluded from a room, in which the windows are left wide open for a free circulation of air, by suspending a net made of light colored thread to the outside of the window, and although every mesh is large enough, not only to admit one fly, but several flies with expanded wings to pass through at the same moment, yet from some inexplicable dread of venturing across the mesh work, those insects are effectually excluded. It is necessary to state that in order for this plan to succeed it is essential that the light enter the toom on one side only, for if there be an opposite or side window the flies pass through the net without scruple.

FARMERS should examine their implements, and put all in good repair needing it.

There are secrets like springs, that lie too deep for boring-and a woman's age is one of them.

We gather it in—this goodly store,
But not with the miser's gust,
For the Great All-Father we adore
Hath but given it in trust.
And our work of death is but for life,
In the wintry days to come—
Then a blessing upon the Reaper's strife,
And a shout at his Harvest Home.

FARMERS, NOTE THIS.—In a cloudy morning, it is a matter of importance to the farmer to know whether it will be sunshiny or showers in the afternoon. If the unts have cleared their hole nicely, and piled the dirt up high, it seldom fails to bring a clear day to the farmer, though it may be cloudy till ten or cleven o'clock in the forenoon. Spider-webs will be very numerous about the tops of the grass and grain some cloudy mornings, and fifty years' observation has shown the writer of this that these little weather-guessers seldom fail in thier predictions of a fair day.—[Exchange.]

BATHING .- Sir Astley Cooper was a great believer in the efficacy of bathing. Hear what he says to the ladies about it:

Immediately on rising from hed, and having all previously ready, take off your night diess, then take up from your earthern pan of two gallons of water, a towel, quite wet, but not dripping; begin at your head, rubbing hair, and face, and neck, and ears well; then wrap yourself behind and before, from neck to chest, your arms and every portion of your body. Remand your towel into the pan, charge it afresh with water, and repeat once all I have mentioned, except the head, unless that be in a heated state, when you may do so, and with advantage. Three minutes will now have elapsed. Throw your towel into the pan, and then proceed with two coarse long towels to scrub your head and face and body, when four minutes will have you in a glow; then wash and hard rub your feet, brush your hair, and complete your toilette, and trust me that this will give new zest to your existence. A mile of walking may be added with advantage.

CURE FOR DIA'RHEA.—Take a handful of strawberry leaves and pour on them a pint of boiling water; let them remain one hour and drink the tea. If you cannot get the boiling water, chew and swallow the leaves. This is a most valuable and efficient remedy. It rarely fails to give immediate relief and perform a permanent cure.

"My brethich," said Swift in a sermon, "there are three soits of pride: of birth; of riehes; of talents. I shall not now speak of the latter, none of you being liable to that abominable vice."

Of all learning the most difficult department is to unlearn. Drawing a mistake of prejudice out of the head, is as painful as drawing a tooth, and the patient never thanks the operator.

Be slow to choose a friend, and slower to change him; courteous to all. Scorn no man for his poverty; honor no man for his wealth.

Goodness of heart is man's best treasure his brightest honor, and noblest acquisition. It is that ray of divinity which dignifies humanity.

A man is in the sight of God what his habitual and cherished wishes are.

If we want to get wisdom, we must do as the chickens do when they pick up feed—a little at a time.

Although in draining land thoroughly, your purse may be drained, yet the full creps that follow will soon fill it up again.

If thou art master, be some times blind; if a servant, be sometimes deaf .- [Fuller.

Great God of Eden! 'twas thy hand First clad the earth in bloom, And shed upon the smiling land Nature's first rich perfome: Fresh at thy glance the flowers sprang Kissed by the sun's first rays— With life, and joyl, and praise.

Corn Hoeing and Top Dressing.—In looking over the mode of cultivation practiced by those most successful in growing the corn crop, and especially the statements of those who have taken premiums or large products of this cereal, we almost invariably find that clean culture and top-dressing were practiced. The corn was hoed at an early stage in its growth, after first going through it several times with the cultivator so as to mellow the soil as far as possible; and then to each hill some stimulant was given, such as plaster, ashes, (leached or unleached) or a mixture of the two. In a few weeks the cultivator and hoe were used again, and the stalks thinned to four in the hill; nor did this suffice, for if time allowed, before the corn became too large to admit of the passage of the horse, the cultivator was again employed and another dressing with the hoe given. At this stage in its growth the ground becomes so shaded by the luxuriant eaves of the grain that little farther attention is needed.

Experience confirms what reason teaches, that large crops of corn can only be grown on rich and well cultivated soils. The structure and size, and the rapid growth of the plant show that it requires to be well supplied with the necessary food for its growth and perfection. It possesses the power of elaborating healthy aliment from coarser food than almost any other cultivated plant, hence its great value as a preparatory crop when such manures are used. It draws largely upon the air, and hence needs that its large leaves he kept healthy and fresh, not parched and rolled by drouth or discolored by the presence of stagnant water in the soil.

Plow deep, manure freely, plant early, hoe and top-dress with ashes or plaster, keep the soil mellow and flat and allow no weeds to grow, and your corn crop will repay well all your care and attention. Neglect it, and "nubblas" will be your rewaid.—[Rural New Yorker.

MULCHING GOSEBERRIES.—An article is going the rounds of the papers, showing the advantages of mulching gooseberries—that it is a remedy for mildew, &c. Now, we would say to the writer of that article, and to those copying it, as well as to every reader of it, that it is necessary to the successful cultivation of small fruits, that they should all be mulched—the gooseberry, the raspberry, the blackberry, the currant, and even the strawberry—the latter with tan. To attempt to cultivate small fruits without mulching, will assuredly fail, after the first year or two, as we have found out to our cost; but with careful, repeated mulching—it matters little what the material is—it will be next to impossible to fail, provided of course, that the other necessary attention is bestowed. We don't know what a mildewed gooseberry is, since adopting this method, and propagating the English Silver variety.—[Maine Farmer.

REMOVING FRECKLES. The favorite cosmetic for removing freckles, in Paris, is an ounce of alum and an ounce of lemon juice in a pint of rose water.

SUCKERS.—Cut away the suckers from your trees, shrubs, roses, &c., in time, or they will rob their parents of their strength, and your lawn, garden, or orchard of much of its beauty.

Brandy brands the noses of all who cannot govern their appetites.

God of the Clouds! thy hands can ope The fountians of the sky, And on the expectant thirsty crop Pour down the rich supply: The faumer, when the seed-time's o'er, Joya in the mercies given— Thinks on thy promised harvest store, And smiling, looks to Heaven.

MANURE FOR PEAR TREES.—If it is conceded (as it seems to be,) that iron fillings, blacksmith's cinders, bone dust, (or some constituent of the kind,) and unslacked lime, are the best ingredients to apply to pears on quince stocks, and we may add, pear trees generally, giving the stems of dwarf trees a good washing with soap oil and ley, not too strong, will add greatly to their health.

BLACK WARTS.—Black Warts on Plum trees should be cut out and burned. Should they reappear, repeat the operation till the evil disappears. But this course is not always effectual.

We knew a tobacco chewer to cut out a large wart on a plum tree and taking the quid from his mouth, warm and juicy, applied itto the wound, and on that spot there was no gathering of the wart afterwards .- [N. E. Farmer.

POULTRY DUNG.—Have this regularly swept up every Saturday, packed away in barrels and sprinkled over with plaster. Dana, with force and truth says: "The strongest of all manures is found in the droppings of the poultry yard." Next year each barrel of it will manure half an acre of land; save it then, and add to the productive energies of your soil. Don't look upon it as too trifling a matter for your attention; but recollect that the globe itself is an aggregate of small matters.

Ashes for the Plum.—A hint derived from your pages, (says a correspondent of an agricultural paper) saved me last season a large crop of plums, the first we have had of any amount for some years.—This was the sprinkling of dry ashes on the young fruit as recommended by one of your correspondents, to prevent the ravages of the curculio. Every morning or two, until the plums were full grown, the trees were well dusted, and the result was a bountiful crop of fine fruit. If any one has not tried it, let him do so the coming season.

TO POLISH MAHOGANY FURNITURE.—Rub it with cold, drawn, linseed oil and polish by rubbing with a clean dry cloth, after wiping the oil off from the furniture. Do this once a week, and your mahogany tables will be so finely polished that hot water would not injure them. The reason is this, linseed oil hardens when exposed to the air; and when it has filled all the porces of the wood the surface becomes hard and smooth like glass.

A Good way of putting down Carets.—A foreign correspondent of the Newark Advertiser in writing from Florence, says:—Here iron rings are fastened in the floors when the carpets are laid, and they have large hooks in the binding, for which these rings are eyes; so that there is no taking out and nailing in of tacks, and carpets are raised and laid as noiselessly and easily as bed-covers.

LEATHER FOR MANURE.—Old boois and shoes, and old harness and shoe-shop scraps are first rate manure. They may be eaten up in ashes or ley, or added to the compost heap, or chopped fine and plowed in the soil. Old weolen rags, and scraps of wool, hair, skins, all should be treated in the same way.

Ale causes many ailings, while beer brings many to the bier.

[&]quot;Why did you not pocket some of those pours?" said one boy to another; "nobody was there to see " "Yes there was-I don't ever mean to see myself do a mean thing."

Panch is the cause of many unfriendly punches.

God of the Sheaf! to thee alone Are due our thanks and praise,

When Harvest's grateful I bor's done, On Plenty glad we gaze:

Then shall our thoughts on heaven rest;

Thy grace we will adore,
And thank that God whose recreies blest
Our basket and our store.

SALT YOUR CHIMNEYS.—In building a chimney, put a quantity of salt in the mortar with which the intercourses of brick are to be laid. The effect will be that there will never be any accumulation of soot in that chimney. The philosophy is thus stated: The salt in the portion of mortar which is exposed absorbs moisture from the atmosphere every damp day. The soot thus becoming damp, falls down to the fire place. This appears to be an English discovery. It is used with success in Canada.

CLEANING WALL PAPERS.—Take a quantity of wheat bran, say two quirts at a time, and enclose it in a piece of thin, open, flannel cloth—so that the bran will wok through—and rub the paper with this, shifting and shaking up the bundle once in a while to keep the surface fresh.

An advantage of this rubber is, that it can be fastened on to a broom or other handle, and then you can reach the top of the wall without getting upon a chair or beach. If you have not flannel suitable, a piece of strainer cloth or such like will answer. With this apparatus, wall paper that is badly smoked can be restored in a short time, so as to look almost as good as new. Grease spose can be considerably improved by first rubbing them well with chalk, and then laying over them several thicknesses of brown paper, and pressing on a bot flat iron.—[Ohio Cultivator.

To PREVENT IRON AND STEEL RUSTING .- Heat the Iron or steel till it burns the hands, and then rub it with pure white wax, and polish it with a piece of cloth or soft leather.

To Make Camphor Cake.—Take of lard, two counces; spormaceti, two conces; white wax, one conce; comphor, half an conce; and melt the whole together with as little heat as possible, stirring the ingredients well that they may unite. When nearly cold, it may be cast into a paper mould; pour the mixture gently in. When cold it is fit for use. Camphor cake is excellent for chapped hands or rough skin; it is best applied after washing.

WHITEWASH .- Remember that whitewash is one of the finest things in the world to promote health and cleanliness. Old buildings, the coverings of which may not be worth the expense of a coat of paint, and which are so unsightly that you are justly ashamed of them in their present condition, may be made to appear almost like new work by the application of a few coats of whitewash. around the house should be washed or painted, also the interior of all out-buildings, barns, sheds, hen-houses, granaties, &c., and the walls of the cellar, as well as the overhead ceilings of the rooms in A liberal use of this sanitary material is of great consequence; lime being a powerful disinfector, and highly efficacious in promoting health at all seasons of the year. Powdered lime sprinkled over the bottoms of the cell rafter the roots are removed in the spring, and repeated occasionally through the season till cold weather, will prevent the unpleasant odor ordinarily engendered by warmth and keep the atmosphere pure and sweet .- N. E Farmer.

ter, happens,
Between midnight and 2 in the morning.	Fair.	Hard frost, unless wind is S. or W.
Between 2 and 4 A. M.,	Cold, freq't showers.	Snowy and stormy.
" 4 and 6 "	Rain.	Rain.
" 6 and 8 "	Wind and Rain.	Stormy.
" 8 and 10 "	Changeable.	Cold rain if wind is W., snow, if E.
" 10 and 12 "	Frequent showers.	Cold and high wind.
At 12, M., and 2 P. M.,	Very Rainy.	dnow or rain.
Between 2 and 4 "	Changeable.	Fair and mild.
" 4 and 6 "	Fair.	Fair.
" 6 and 8 "	Fair, if wind N. W. Rainy, if S. or S. W.
" 8 and 10 "	Ditto.	Ditto.
" 10 and 12 "	Fair.	Fair and frosty.

Observations.-1. The nearer the moon's changes, first quarter, full, and last quarter, are to midnight, the fairer will it be during the next seven days.

2. The space for this calculation occupies from ten at night, till two next morning.

3. The nearer to midday or noon, the phases of the moon happen, the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next 7 days.

4. The space for this calculation occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the summer, though they affect spring and autumn nearly in the same ratio

5. The moon's change, firt quuter, full, and last quarter, happening during six of the afternoon hours, i. e., from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather; but this is mostly dependant on the wind, as is noted in the table.

6. Though the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of attumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring, yet, in the main, the above observations will appear to the property of the prope ply to those periods also.

7. To prognosticate correctly, especially ln those cases where the wind is concerned, the observer should be within sight of a good xane, where the four cardinal points of the heavens are correctly plead,

The above table was originally formed by Dr. Herschel, and is now published with some alterations founded on the experience of Dr. Adam Clark.

THE HORSE! THE HORSE!

NOBLEST OF DOMESTIC ANIMALS!

AND THE ONE MOST FREQUENTLY NEGLECTED, ILL-TREATED AND ABUSED!

We have just published a book of so much value to every man who owns a horse that no one should willingly be without it. It is entitled.

THE MODERN HORSE DOCTOR.

and is from the pen of that celebrated English Veterinary Surgeon, Dr. Geo. H. Dadd, well known for many years in this country as one of the m st successful scientific and popular writers and lecturers in this branch of medical and surgical science. The book which he now offers to the public is the result of many years study and practical experience, which few have had.

From the numerous and strong recommendations of distinguished men and the newspaper press, we select the following:

DR. DADD: My Dear Sir, -I hope that your work on the noblest creature that man has ever been permitted to old in subjection (the horse) will meet that success which all your efforts in that direction so well deserve. Your obedient servant.

JOHN II. CLIFFORD.

Boston, May 13th, 1854.

Dr. Dade: Alg Dear Soy,—I am greatly obliged to you for your valuable treatise, the result of your own investigations, which you have recently issued. Hoping it may meet with the pationage of a discriminating community.

I remain yours with great respect,

MARSHAL P. WILDER.

Dr. Dadd has had great experience in the care of sick horses, and explains the secret of his success in this volume.—N. Y. Tribune.

The author of this work is well known as a skillful veterinary surgeon. His book is based on the soundest common sense, and as a hand book for practical use, we know of nothing to compare withit.

—Yankee Blade.

A very valuable work, by Dr. Dadd, a well know veterinary surgeon, on the causes, nature and treatment of disease and lameness in horses.—Farmer's Cabinet.

Published by John P. Jewett & Co., Boston.

An Interesting Narrative of a Poor Soldier.

In the year 1822, in the little village of Charlestown, Mass. resided a poor but worthy man, who followed the trade of currier, his vencrabbe form showing the remains of great endurance, physical strength & calm mien, attracted the attention of his neighbors, who were anxious to learn his story, & the history of his former life; the' othererwise cheerful & pleasant, on this subject he was reserved & silent. It chanced that he fell sick & was waited upon by a clergyman who showe thim every attention his little means would afford. It was durin ; his intervals of repore he communicated to this good man, this history of his past life, at the reason why he left his native country. It seems he was a Russian of good family, and served in the army of the Czar, during the celebrated campaigns of Napoleon; after the retreat from Moscow he followed on with the victorious army, and witnessed and suffered all the trials of that celebrated campaign. Soldters wounded, dving & frezen, snewed the path of the retreating army, & it was the province of the Russian general to save the lives of those as well as drive before him the Prench army. It was during this firmed retreat that this soldier witnessed the good effect of a simple remedy in the hands of a Russian surgeon, applied to the dying and wounded, which had wonderful efficier and effect. Sufferme from wounds himself, he soon derived the same benefit, & tho' me appentated from soldier's duty, he was commanded to follow on in by argeon's staff, and collect the materials for this simple preparaon, which were found in the track of the army; thus this poor to carr came in presession of the secret of its make, and dying be This recipe of its manufacture to this good clergyman; soon aft r, his real, an in removed to Boston to accept the post of City Misso ... v. & a visiting the poor and suffering he bethought him of this . r o'der's matment, & found that it did them good. For ten year this continent was given away, but as the clergyman's means him was to put a small price on each box to pay him for making it. l'in my this good elergymen died and leit this recipe to his family, who have continued making it, and have employed Messrs, REDDING & CO., No. 8, State st., Boston, their agents for its sale, and fixed the price of each box at 25 cts.; each box has an engraved label, which is duly copy-righted according to law, and the public are cautioned against buying any but the original particle, which may be had of F. E. Smith, B. O. Tyler, Montpelier; Dutton & Clark, Brattleboro; O. P. Woods, Beliows Palls; I. Pratt, Woodstock; C. F. Neuthrup, S P Peck, Bennington; T. A. Peck, Burlington; Mrs. L. D. Lee, So. DR. CONINE'S

This medicine depends more upon its own virtue and actual merit than any other ever before offered to the public. In China it is the potent and effectual remedy for

but what will particularly attract attention is its astonishing DIS-SOLVENT POWER, by which it at once removes all PHLEGM, or extraneous matter from the Throat, Stomach or Lungs. It is therefore ANTI-EXPECTORANT, and from attention of trial here, it is now offered as nature's kindest remody for the remyval of CONSUMPTION, WHOOFING COUGH, AND ALL COUGHS, by precipitating the phlegm, instead of creating irritation by expectoration. It is aromatic, and increases the general warmth, possessing the exhilerating properties of the TEA PLANT, which is one great cause of its universal popularity in all INDIA beyond the Ganges, while as a Dyspeptic Remedy and epocisor, it has probably no equal in the whole vegetable kingdom. The interesting history of the GINSENG, &c., is to be had in pamphlets, gratis.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Surup of Ginseng and Malve.- In cases of Consumption, even , where the lungs have become seriously, and almost fatally affected, this preparation has performed a quick and easy cure. In the early stages of consumption it is a sure remedy, and has received the universal approval of the medical faculty of this city.

Prepared and sold by Wilson, Paichan's & Co., Nos. 43 & 45 Hand-ver St -Boston Bee.

The Great Remedy .- We have examined many compounds in the course of a long professional life and we are satisfied that the Myrup of Ginseng and Malva, prepared by Dr. Conine, is the most safe and certain remedy for all diseases of the lungs that have come to our notice. Sold by druggists generally .- Times.

The Sirup of Ginseng .- livery age and century has its wonderful discovery and great men. This honor for the 19th most, and probably will be accorded to Dr. Conine, for his discovery of the "Syrup of Ginseng," so unrivalled in its cure of Coughs and Colds .- Journal.

The Clargyman's Friend .- Before the introduction of the famous Syrup of Ginseng and blatva into America, our clergymen were constantly afflicted with throat diseases. Since the Ginseng and Malva has attained its popularity, and is generally used by all clergymen we hear of but few complaints of this kind. This excellent compound is sold by Wilson, Fairbank & Co., at wholesale and retail, and by respectable druggists at retail .- Journal.

A Distinct Asticulation is one of the first and essential qualities of good reading. This can only be ac aired from the tractice of Elementary sounds and their combinations. All these simple elements and their combinations are given with analytic ctions, arranged in the simplest and ansi compact form, in the sist three of these books. The next points are emphasis and tones, There are set forth, and fully and practically explained and il ustrated in the last three renders. The character of the selections is such, as to claim the attention of all who are in search of good r. ading matter. The superiority of these works is acknowledged wherever they have been brought to a practical test.

The above Series are used as to t books in the B STON NOR-MALSCHOOL They are also used to a great extent in Massachusetts, in towns which embrace one half the popu ation of the State. Also extensively used in NINETEEN diff rent states of the Union Tower's Gradual Speller and Complete Luunciator.

FIR-T LESSONS IN LANGUAGE, OR ELEMENTS OF ENGLISH GRAMMAR This is introductory to Tower's Grammar, and yet is a complete G mmar in itself. The child advances one step at a time, understundingly. His reason is convinced, his interest excited, and the grammatical distinctions are the more obvious as they are kept free from unnecessary logical refinements, which would only embarrass the beginner. All that is asked in its behalf, is that Committees and Teachers would examine it.

Tower's English Grammar.

Gradual Lessons in Grammar, and Sequel .- i his system of Analysis and Composition was the first, published in this country; and it is free from the cumbersome phraseology and useless distinctions which others have so exactly and nicely copied from foreign works. Explanations of the Astronomical Department,

By due attention to the following explanations, all the Astronomical Calculations in this work will be readily understood.

Time is regarded as either mean or apparent.

A mean dan is the average length of the days in the year, and consists of 24 hours, we measured by a clock which runs uniformly, and which measures 305 times 24 hours in 315 natural days.

An apparent any is the time from the sun's leaving the meridian on one day, till its arrival on the meridian on the next day; and this time is not always the same, being sometimes more and sometimes less than 24 hours.

Mean time, then, is that shown by a well regulated clock; and opparent time is that shown by a correct sun-dual; the difference between these is called the equation of time.

The equation of time depends upon two causes, the obliquity of the collection to the equator, and the eccentricity of the carth's orbit; both of which tend to produce an inequality in the daily increments of the sun's right ascension, while the earth's metion on its axes is perfectly uniform. Mean and apparent time concide only four tunes in the year, viz: Abril 15th, June 15th, August 31st, and Isc. 24th; and the graatest difference between mean and apparent time is on the 20 of November, and amounts to a little more than 14 1-4 minutes.

With the exception of the sun's declination and semi-diameter, and the equation of time, which are for the instant of apparent noon at Montpelier, all the calculations are adapted to mean time.

At the head of the right hand page for each month stards first a table of the d. clination and southing of the principal planets, on the lst, 7th, 13th, 19th and 25th days, and below it phases of the moon. By means of the first of these tables, the several planets may be readily found and recognized.

It was formerly customary to give the rising and setting of the sun according to apparent time, and give the equation of time in another column. In that case it was necessary, in regulating a time-piece by the rising or setting of the sun, to apply the equation to the time of rising or setting, (as the case may be,) given in the Almanac, and also 3 or 4 minutes, according to the sun's declination, on account of atmospheric refraction at the horizon. But as this matter was little understood, and attended with some trouble, these corrections were generally neglected. To remedy this inconvenience, it has been tho't best to apply both these corrections, found to the nearest minute, to the sun's ising and setting, and to give only the result, which has been done in this Registersince 1-37. The method of doing this may be made plain by an example. Take, for this purpose, the 23d of Sei-On that day, according to the old method, the sun would rise at 6 o'clock, and set at 6. On that day the equation of time is 8 minutes; or, in other words, the sun is 8 minutes faster than the The time, then, by the clock, when it is 6 by the sun, is 5h 52m in the morning, and fh 52m in the evening. Now, on account of the refraction of the earth's atmosphere, the sun oppours in the horizon in the morning 4 minutes be one he arrives there; at 1 in order to have the time when the sun is seen in the horizon at his time of rising, we subtract 4m from 7h 52m, leaving 5h 48m; and for the same reason we add 4m to 5h 5 lm, which gives 5n f6m for the tage of his setting on the Will of September; and these are the times given in COMMENCEMENT OF THE SEASONS, FASTS AND FESTIVALS, ETC.

The column marked Sun South is formed by applying the equation of time to apparent noon, and contains the times shown by a correct time-piece when the sun is on the meridian; or, in other words, when it is noon by a correct noon mark or dial. For example, when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of January, it should be 4 minutes after 12 o'clock by the time-piece. Again—when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of November, it should be only 44 minutes after 11 o'clock by the time-piece. Th's column is introduced for convenience in setting time-pieces by a noon-mark.

The columns marked Sun's Declination, Sun's Semi-Diameter, and Equation of time, are calculated, to the nearest second, for apparent noon, and will be understood, without further explanation, by those who may have occasion to use them.

The results in the above table were derived from three daily observations, made at sunrise, I v. M. and 9 v. M., amounting in all to 1095 observations in the year. The mean temperature of 1854 was 6.16° colder than the average of the 16 preceeding years. The warmest day in the year was July 4, the mean heat of which was 85°. The coldest day was Dec. 22, the mean of which was -14 1-3. The greatest heat was 992-3°, on the 20th of July; and the greatest cold was -21°, on the 20th of Dec. Range of the thermometer 120 2 32.

The Barometer was highest on the 23d of Dec., being 30.46 inches, and lowest on the 25th of Nov., being 98 80 inches, range 1.65 inches, less than the year before by 0-30 inches, but in neither case were the observations corrected for temperature. The fall of water in rain and snow was 7.59 inches less than in 1853, and 6.96 inches less than the average annual fall in the preceeding 16 years, and 089 in. less than in any one of those years, 26.35 inches in 1849 being the least. The crops, in tlement of the country. The fall of snow in 1851, (78 inches.), was 12 inches less than in 1853, and 25 inches less than in all parts of the state, probably suffered more from drought in the summer of 1854 than in any previous season since the set 1852. Sleighs ran more or less for about 4 weeks, but the sleighing could hardly be called good at any time. The Lake, however, was entirely frozen over Feb. 4, and was passable by teams the 6th in all directions. Passing became unsafe the middle of March, the ice was broken up the 10th of April, and the Lake became clear and steamers were out the 18th. The Lake was highest May 10th, being 1 foot 4 inches below extreme high water mark; and was lowest Sept. 1st, being 7 feet 5 inches below high water mark,—change of lead 6 feet 1 inch.

Robins and Bluebirds appeared March 12th, Song-Sparrows the 15th. Red Plums in blossom May 18th, Cherry the 18th, Pear the 28th, Crab Apple the 23tl, Common Apple the 25th.

Sleighs were first out the 6th of December, and during the remainder of Dec., some sleighs were seen running, but more wagons; and the sleighing could at no time be called good. In January there were only 4 days of tolerable sleighing. From Peb. 15 to March 5, sleighing was pretty good, making about 7 weeks in which sleighs were out but only 3 weeks in which the sleighing good. The broad Lake froze over Peb. 5, and the crossing on the ice continued good and safe till April 8. The Lake was clear of ice excepting the bay, April 20. Steam ferry-boat out April 21. Line boats commenced running April 24.

There's no dearth of kindness In this world of ours! Only in our blindness We gather thorns for flowers! Outward, we are spurning— Trampling one another! While we are inly yearning At the name of "Brother!"

A Good Rule to begin the year with.—When the Devil has any odd job to do, he always looks about for some idle man to do it; and whenever any great crime has been perpetrated, the police—sugacious fellows!—invariably look among the idle and dissolate, to find the criminal. Persons who are always usefully employed, are never troubled by the man with the big stick, and have no occasion to whistle to keep their courage up, when passing a grave yard after dark. A good conscience is a safe guard against all the machinations of the Devil.

ANOTHER.—Dr. Barney says, that when he was young, his venerable teacher gave him a lesson which made a deep impression and by which he endeavored to profit: "Never to go to bed at night," he said, "until you know something which you did not know in the morning."

CURE FOR Bots.—William II. Dawson, of Arkansas, gives the following remedy for the bots, in the Southern Cultivator: —" Allow me to give you a sure and speedy cure for the bots: From 40 to 50 grains of quinine in one pint of brandy, then add one pint of water. My experience in horses has been considerable of late, and I have seen a goodly number taken with the bots. I have also given the above remedy and in no case failed to cure."

Galls on Heisses—A strong solution of alum with some whiskey mixed in it, is said to be a most excellent remedy for the galled shoulders of horses. Apply it three times a day until the wound is healed.

Geod Stock.—To every farmer who has occasion to raise a colt, a calf, a lamb, or a pig, or indeed any animal, I would say, first: see that the intended parents are healthy, and neither very young nor in the dectine of life. Second: that they are not near relations.—
Third: that the intended dam be "well treated" after conception.

These are the first requisites.

Whitewash.—This article, as originally made, robs off the walls after it becomes dry, soiling clothes and every thing coming in contact with it. This may be obviated by slackening the lime in boiling water, stirring it meanwhile, and then applying—after dissolving in water—white vitriol (sulphate of zinc) in the proportion of four pounds to a barrel of whitewash, maxing it the consistency of rich milk. The sulphate of zinc will cause the wash to harden, and prevent the lime from rubbing off. A pound of white sait should also be thrown into it.

Prosperity is no just scale; adversity is the only balanco to weigh riends in Hope paves the golden way to bliss, and cheerfulness is the lamp that lights the becuteous walk.

The parent who would train up a child in the way he should go, must go in the way he would train up his child.

True prayer is not human, but a celestral gift: the fruit of the Holy Spirit praying in us and with us.

Nothing shows the low state of Christianity so deplorably as the readiness with which its professors take advantage of the wants and necessities of the poor.

There's no dearth of kindness Or love among mankind, But in darkling loneness flooded hearts grow blind! Full of kindness tingling, Soul is shut from soul, When they might be mingling In one kindred whole!

IMPROVED IMPLEMENTS.—Provide yourself with the best of implements. This is an age of improvement, and oftentimes an improved farming implement—though it may cost much more than an old fashioned one, will be found infinitely cheaper of the two, in the end. The improved plows, cultivators, hoes, scythes, forks of all kinds, together with the chaffing, rasping, reaping, mowing, stone-picking, seed-sowing, and other newly invented implements, are affecting an entire revolution in agriculture. Not only is the farmer enabled through this assistance to perform a much greater amount of labor with the same help, but to perform it much better. Toil seems robbed of its one-iou-ness, and the most irksome details of husbandy are performed, if not with pleasure, at least with the greatest case.

QUASTITY OF SEED.—Mr. Mechi, the distinguished agriculturist at Tiptree Hall, seys: "Our farmers have, many of them, yet to learn the advantige of a moderate quantity of seed.' The true rule we believe to be to make the ground rich and use the less seed; then you get a vicoious growth and fully matured seed.

SEEDS.—Plant and sow none but the best. If you discover a head of wheat, or an et of cour ripening in advance of the rest of the crop, catch and save it to propagate from. In this way the maturation of many vegetables has been forwarded many days, and in some cases, weeks. The largest and best developed specimens from your several field crops, are those which should be selected and reserved for seed. Attention to this important matter will cost but little, yet be productive of needcubble benefits in a long run.

PAINTED PAILS.—The Scientific American cautions its readers against the use of painted pails, and says the oxide of lead, with which pails are painted, is a dangerous poison, and has been known to be productive of evil in many cases.

A Preventive against Monhs.—Take cloves, caraway seeds, nutmeg, mace, cinnamon, and tonquin, of each one ounce; then add as much florentine, orris-root, as will equal the other ingredients put together. Grind the whole well to powder; and then put in little bags, among your clothes, &c. It is a pleasant perfume and will keep away moths.

Do you want to rid your closets and pantries of those insidious pests, the small ants? Get a spong, the larger the better, wash it we I, press it dry, lay it on the shelf where the insects oftenest congregate, sprinkle some line white sugar upon it, and then drop it into scalding water two or three times a day. By following these directions you'll scald the little busy-bodies by thousands.

Every man ought to endeavor at eminence, not by pulling others down, but by raxing himself; and enjoy the pleaure of his own superiority, whether imaginary or real, without interrupting others in the same felicity.

THE brend of life is love; the salt of life is work; the sweetness of life, poesy; the water of life, faith.—Mrs. Jamesen.

If you bet where you don't know, you are a fool; if you bet where you do know, you are a knowe.

There's no dearth of kindness, Tho' it be unspoken; From the keart it buildeth Rainbow smiles in token— That there be none so lowly, But have some angel touch; Yet, unrsing loves unholy, We live for self too much!

If your flations are rough and smoky, lay a little fine salt on a flat surface, and rub them well, it will prevent them from sticking to anything starched, and make them smooth

Rub your griddle with fine salt before you grease it, and your cake will not stick. When walnuts have been kept until the meat is too much dried to be good let them stand in milk and water eight hours, and dry them, and they will be as fresh as when new.

It is a good plan to keep your different kinds of pieces, tape thread, &c, in separate bags; and there is no time lost in looking for them.

Oat straw is best for filling of beds, and it is well to change it as often as once a year.

Cedar chests are best to keep flannels, for cloth moths are never found in them. Red cedar chips are good to keep in drawers, ward-tobes, closets, trunks, &c., to keep out noths.

When cloths have acquired an unpleasant odor by being from the air, charcoal, laid in the folds, will soon remove it.

Soar versus Hens and Crows—Mr. Levi D. Cowles, this spring, informs us that he and his brother, Chester Cowles, have thoroughly tried the soaking of seed-corn in soap over night and rolling in plaster before planting, as a means of securing quick and vigorous growth, and as a remedy against crows and hens; and he says that nothing will give the corn a better start, and that neither hens nor crows will touch the corn when so treated. We have often heard of this before. The Messrs, Cowles say it is positively so.—Noal's Farmer.

Wollen Rags for Manure.—The use of woolen rags for manucles well known. When once decomposed they are very powerfully, but the decomposition is slow, and they are not easily spread uniformly on land. Mons, Goubin therefore treats the rags with a weak caustic soda lye, and dries them. They are afterwards pulverized, passed through serves, and in that condition put on the land. This manure is especially well suited for turnips, beets and all such plants as require a short time for their development. Instead of soda lye, cover them with unleached ashes, and wet the heap occasionally.

A promise should be given with caution and kept with care. A promise should be made by the heart and remembered by the head. A promise is the offspring of intention, and should be nuttured by recollection. A promise should be the result of reflection. A promise and its performance, should, tike the scales of a true balance, always present a mutual adjustment.

"What do you do to make yourself look delicate?" said one young woman with an eruption on her face to another, who looked like one of the departed. "Why," said she, "sometimes! eat slate pencils and chalk, and then for a change I drink vinegar and chew green tea. When these fail, I lace tighter, and wear the thinnest woled shoes I can buy.

A lady, describing an ill-tempered man, said, " He never smiles but he is ashamed of it."

Those dandyfied, lifty fingered persons who consider themselves far above work, would, if the truth were known, find themselves far below it.

As the wind rose b oweth, As runs the happy river, Kindness feeely floweth In the heart forever. But if men will hanker Ever for gold in dust, Kindliest hearts will canker, Brightest spirits rust.

RULLS FOR MILKING -If you have a gentle cow, be gentle vourself. If a cow kicks much, place a switch under the left arm, the pan in the left hand, and if, while milking, she kicks, let it be followed invariably by a single blow. Never strike but once at a time, even if she kicks so hard as to break your leg; and never omit it if she hit- nothing. By never striking but once she has no time to "get mad," and it is all the more terrific. for who cares for a blow while stimulated by fary? A small mess of pleasant food at the time, will serve to do away with any disagreeable impression in connection with milking. To be a good milker you must pire your nails short, sit on a stool, milk fast, never scold a cow, never get out of patience, tie her tail to her leg in fly-time never wet the teats with the first stream of milk, and never strike a cow but once for running or kick Milk applied to the teats to soften them, dries and forms a glessy varnish, which tends to cause cracking or chapping of those parts Cold water is much better, becoming quite dry by the time the milking is finished, leaving the teats clean and soft.

STRAWBERRY CULTIVATION.—Apply once a week, for three times, commencing when the green leaves first begin to start, and making the lest application just before the plants are in full bloom, the following preparation of nitrate of potasts, glauber salts, and saltsoda, each one pour—dissolved in 30 gallons of rain or river water. One third to be spotast at a time, when the weather is dry; apply clear soft water between times of using the preparation—as the growth of the young leaves is so rapid that unless well supplied with water the sun will scorch them. Use a common watering pot, and make the application towards evening. Managed in this way, there is neither any necessity of digging over the bed, nor setting it out anew.—Beds ten years o'd are not only as good, but better than those of two or three years of age. But you must be sure to keep the weeds out.

To Wash Sheep.—A correspondent of the Ohio Cultivator says, 'I take a hogshead with one head out, water tight, or a large meat tut, and sink it in the stream where there is considerable current, and place a few rocks in the bottom of the hogshead. I take four stakes, with forks on one end, and drive them down until the forks come over the top of the hogshead to secure it from coming up. After this is done I dip out the water, get into the hogshead, and have a man to hand the heep to me, and I can wash one hundred in a very short time, and be perfectly dry, only my arms.

A poor Irishman, who applied for a license to sell aident spirits in one of the provincial towns of England, being questioned by the Board of Excise as to his moral fitness for the trust, replied—"Ah, sure, it is not much character a man needs to sell the same!"

"Some of the domestic cyils of drunkenness," says Franklin, " are houses without win 'ows, gordens without fences, fields without fillage, bains without roofs, children without clothing, principles, anals, or manners."

There is only one objection to people who " mean well," and that is they never can spare time to carry out their meaning.

There's no dearth of kindness In this world of ours; Only in our blindness We gather thorns for flowers! O, cherish God's best giving, Falling from above! Life were not worth living, Were it not for Love.

MULCHING. -Newly set trees should not be drenched in flowls of water. In order to have a tree live, and the same is true of many garden plants, the ground should be moist, but not innudated. Mulching—a covering about the roots, of half-rotten leaves, decaying chips, saw dust, straw, coarse hay, brakes, ferns, anything that will keep the surface moist and cool—is what the newly set tree requires.—The mulching should be kept on till the roots have had time to head, the rootlets to spread widely in the soil, and the tree to become vigorous, all which will be shown by its growth and full, rich foliage.

RHUBARB TARTS.—Take the young green stalks of the rhubarb plant, and having peeled off the thin sain, cut the stalks into small pieces about an inch long, and put them into a souce pan with plenty of brown sugar, and its own juice. Cover it, and let it stew slowly till soft enough to mash into a marmalade. Then set it away to cool. Have ready some fresh baked she ls; fill them with the stewed rhubarb, and grate white sugar over the top. For covered pies, cut the rhubarb very small, mix a great deal of sugar with it and put it in raw. Bake the pies about three-quarters of an hour.

How to destroy the Onion Fire.—Sow in trenches, with a good supply of seed soaked in warm water, (stirring in plaster to dry the seed, also making it far better for sowing.) As soon as you see the first wither, from the maggot working at the root of the plant, heat water in proportion to the size of the bed, throwing in while boiling a quantity of tansy. While hot, pour the liquid from a sprinkler (without the nose) or a large collected around the roots, but care should be taken not to poor it on the stock. Clear water may answer the purpose. The maggot being tender is easily killed by the heat.

-Maine Farmer.

HAY FOR COWS IN SUMMER.—An observing, intelligent end successful farmer informs us that he is in the practice of feeding has cows with hey in summer, partnermarly if the season is such as to afford flush postures. It is reasoning is that a foll, rapid and vigorous growth or grass gives to cathe that field upon it, a desire for something to absorb the excess of the jance in their food. Dry hey they devour greedily, and though in ever so small quantities, evidently with the most boneficial effects. Every farmer must have observed that in dry seasons, horses, earlie and shorp, keep in good condition upon herbage purched and apparently seam, while in wet seasons, in all postures, though always fell, the powers of fatoning with them was slow. Bey fedder in such cases is required to give substance and tenderly to the green, and earlie proposed.

The poor follow "who couldn't hold his owe," has get himself into a worse difficulty by trying to hood another's.

Never give counter! where it is not asked of you, especially to those incapable of appreciating it.

If thou art master, be sometimes blind; if a servant, be sometimes deaf.

Ashes.—Ashes neutralize aries in the soil, warm cold, mucky, wet places; destroy worms and usects; dissolve the coarse fibres and stakes; and make hard, clayer soils, open, loamy, and fertile.

Keep cool! the secret of success in life Lies not in haste, excitement. bustle, strife. This "bolting dinners," hurrying to and fro; Keeping up one continued, constant "go;" Taking your pleasure jaunts at tailroad speed, And never stopping aught to see or heed; This going to China just to have a chat, Taking but one clean dickey in your but ;-These are the features of the times, I own, That give to modern life its zest and tone : But do they bring us real, genuine joy, True happiness, unmixed with base alloy ?

FRUIT TREES .- June is a good month for trimming trees, and June is the best time to wash apple trees with ley. This ley is made of potash-one pound to one gallon of water. If the potash is good, the ley will be strong enough to make soap, or to bear up a ben's egg to the surface. Good ashes put into soft water answers the same purpose. Some farmers prefer to use ashes and to plaster them on to their trees. When this work is well done it will keep the borers away. Borers are killed by contact with ley of this strength. The borer fly, be it remembered, lays her eggs very punctually at the root of the apple tree and quince bush about the first of July-but a wash in June always tends to keep this pest away from the trees-and as this wash cleanses the bark from all lice and moss, we again recommend it to all orchardists who value their apple trees and quince bushes .- Pleughman.

MsLON BUGS .- Reader, are you ever troubled with that terrible pest, the meion or squash bug? You need not be. Get 4 lbs. quassia chips and pour four gallons of boiling water over them in a barrel. Cover to keep in steam and stand 12 hours; then fill the barrel, and water daily. Bugs don't like bitters. Better yet, dip feathers in turpentine every other day, and stick them round the hills.

ANOTHER .- Take hen manure and put it into a tub, and mix it with water, and make it a strong liquor, and wet the plants every night until out of danger, and they will grow very fast if treated in this way. CORN FODDER - Every man who has tried the experiment is satisfied that Indian corn sowed in drills and used for fodder for milch cows, during the latter part of August and the fall months following, is excellent. Now is the time to commence planning. By dividing the land which you can devote to this crop, and planting a portion of it every ten days until the middle of July, you will get a succession of growth that will keep you well supplied with green, succulent food, until bard flosts come. Some prefer the sweet corn for this crop, because the stalk contains more sugar than other varieties, but we like the southern flat. This variety produces more todder than the other varieties, and when planted at different times, and cut while tender, yields successive supplies to the close of the season. Sowing in drols and hoeing occasionally, is better than sowing it broadcast; for, when sowed in this way, unless your land is very clean, the weeds will take their proportion of the fertility and dominish the corn crop proportionally.

It at An old lanter has discovered that washing the face and hands with lemon juice keeps off the musquitoes. The acid is offensive to them.

Men often blush to hear of what they were not ashamed to ac'.

GREENS.—White mustard, spinich, water-creeses, durd-flows, and the leaves and roots of very small heets are the host greens. Boil them with a little salt in the water, or after you leave to ked beaut

Keep cool! don't strive for sudden wealth too last; Fortunes, quick made, are seldem known to last : Like wat'ry ubble that in air revolves, A breath but makes them and a breath dissolves ; Write letters, if you've any time to waste, But don't, I pray you, subscribe yourself " in haste ;" Men have been known in life their hopes to kill, By heedless scratching of some wayward quill; And e'en our generals see their fortunes droop, When trusted to a " hasty plate of soup." Be wise, discreet-of dangers take good heed; Be cautious, and you cannot but succeed; Shun all rash acts,-let moderation mark Each enterprise on which you may embark; And from your minds ne'er let there be effaced The old yet sterling proverb, "flaste makes Waste."

TREATMENT OF TOMATOES.—During the early part of the growth of tomatoes, the surface of the soil should be fraquently disturbed. When they have set their fruit they may be shortened, and it may be deferred until for fruit is of balf size, when it may be readily observed that 29 per cent of the fruit is within 18 inches of the ground, while 90 per cent of the vinc is beyond that distance. The vine, therefore, should be trimmed to within half an inch of the tomato nearest the end of each branch. This will admit star and oir freely, and although ten per cent of the towatees that might have grown will be team away, atil the remaining portion will be greater in weight and measure has liftle vine nad not been shortened in. Tomatoes are several days earlier by this treatment,—Scientife American.

SCHMIR BAYERROUS.—The first is known by the name of seidlitz powders; these powders are absolutely invalidate; they are excellent for all deringements of the bayers, liver, costiveness, &coand if the popul would use them generally they would contribute bergely to their general health. The following is a recipe for making one powder and any munice can be made by the same rule: Rochelle a dra. I services; carb. soda, 2 scruptes; tritime acid, 35 grains. Bisache the safts and soda together in one glass, then dissolve the acid in another glass, throw them together and drink during the effect are. To those who have no scales for weighing such small quantities, I will say, that one tea spoenful of the safts will answer for two dimenses and a half; a tea spoonful for thirty-live grains of soil, and about a quarter of a teaspoonful for thirty-live grains of acid.

The next in order is, medicated It notice, which is certainly a very agreembre and healthy beverage for the summer season; it is made as follows. White sugar one pound; thread acid, a quarter of an order ; escape of known thirty drops; water, three quarts. Mix may quarter the none of less can be made by the same rule. There are so as who profess white sugar, but I like brown nearly as well. Thus constitutionable to manufactured without the use of termons, which is my estimation is far superior to that made from fruits, without much trouble or expense.

True cloquence consists in saying all that is necessary, and nothing more.

A generous mind does not feel as belonging to itself alone, but to the whole human race.

The spirit of business is the same as the true spirit of literature; and the perfection of each is the union of energy and thoughtfulness.

God speed the noble farmer who feateth net to toil, For he is Nature's charmer who becutifies the soil; God speed ye on your mission, ye noble sons of earth, And may your toil's fruition be equal to your worth.

PINCHING CCCUMBER VINES.—I had a narrow border, not more than two feet and a half wide, on the rdge of a paved yard, enclosed by a high fence. I planted three cucumber hills in the border, and laid some brush (such as is used for pea vines,) between them and the fence. As soon as they crept up to the top of the brush, I pinched off the ends of the vine which thickened rapidly around the roots, and in every direction throwing out the most vigorous foliage and a profusion of flowers.

I dil not allow the cucumbers to grow, but watched them, and such as I wished to reserve for the table, I picked as soon as they became of proper size; all the rest were gathered every day for pickles; every day pinching off the bud at the end of each shoot.—
In this way the hills continued fresh and productive until they were teached by the frost. Some judgment can be formed of the value of this practice when I ald that more than a bernel of pickles were made from the three hills, besides allowing a supply for the table.

Whenever a leaf negan to look rasty or yellowish, it was removed, and every cucumber and leaf was cut off with large scissors, so as not to disturb or wound the vine. There is an advantage in having them run up on brush instead of trailing over the ground; because they are much injured by being trodden on, and by being kept low on the bushest they can be easily and thoroughly examined every day, which is essential, because it one or two excumbers are overlooked and grow very large, it stops the yield of that vine.—Cor. Horicaltarist.

HOME MADE CHLORIDE OF LIME .- Prof Nash says: Take one barrel of lime and one bushel of salt; dissolved it as little water as will dissolve the whole; slack the lime with the water, putting on more water than will dry slock it, so much that it will form a very thick paste; this will not take a'l the water; put on therefore a litthe of the remainder daily until the lime has taken the whore, result will be a sort of impure chloude of lime, but a very powerful dendourser, equally good for all out door purposes, with the article bought under the name at the apothecary's, and costing not one This should be kept under a shed or some twentisth part as much. out bailding. It should be kept moist, and it may be applied whenever elective odors are generated, with the assurance that it will be effective to purify the air and will add to the value of the manure much more than it costs. It would be well for every farmer to prepage a quantity of this and have it always on hand.

PLASTIN ON CLOVER-A bushed of Plaster per acre, sown broadcast over clover, will add one hundred per cent, to its produce.

The diamond fallen into a dunghill is not the less precious; and the dust raised by high winds to heaven is not the less vile.

An ass which bears its burden, is of more worth than a lion which devours mea.

Patience is a tree whose roots are bitter, but the fruit is very sweet.

The man who returns good for evil, is as a tree which renders its shade and its fauit even to those who cast stones at it.

A min passes for a sage when he seeks for wisdom; but if he thinks he has found it he is a fool.

A divine, once praying, said, "O Lord, give us neither poverty nor rishes," and pausing solemnly a moment, added, "specially poverty."

Turn up the swarded furrow, roll down the stubborn hill, For earth is all obedient to man's, her master's, will; But, like all other servants, she must be treated well, And at unkindly usage she quickly will rebel.

Drainage.—Soils which contain standing water within thirty inches of the surface, should be underdrained. From such land, there is a continued drainage of water to the surface, as in a flower pot where the water is applied to the hottom, but soon moistens to the top. Constant evaporation keeps the soil and air cold, and excludes the air from the soil. Dain off the water and the air enters the soil; as there is less evaporation, the soil becomes warmer; the oxygen decomposes the vegetable matter in the soil, and changes the poisonous protoxide of iron to the bearticinel peroxide.

To take out Bruises in Furniture.—Wet the place well with water, then take some brown paper folded five or six times, and well scaked in water, lay it on the place and apply a hot-iron till it is dry. If the bruise remains, repeat it until it is raised to the sur-

To Polish Ivory .- Rub it with putty and water with a piece of

To Polish Pearl.—Use fine punice stone; then putty powder, as for ivery; it will give a fine gloss and good color.

To Restone the Elasticity of Canesear Chairs, &c.—Turn up the chair, and with hot water and spenge wash the cane work well; if necessary add soap. Let it dry in the air, and it will be tight and firm as new.

To REMOVE INK SPOTS FROM MAHOGANY .- Apply spirits of salt with a sponge till it disappear-, then rives with clean water.

To PREVENT LAMPS FROM SMOKING.—Soak the wick in strong vinegar and dry it.

To REMOVE MILDEW,—Rub the article well with soap, scrape chalk and rub in well, lay it on the grass; as it dries, wet it again, and the spots will disappear after the second application.

To CLEAN SILES.—One fourth of a pound of soft soap, one teaspoonful of brandy one pint of gin: mix well together. With a spoonge spread the mixture on each side of the silk without crossing it, wash in two or three waters, iron on the wrong side, and it will look as well as new.

To PREVENT WHITE SILKS AND MUSLINS FROM TURNING YELLOW.

-Scatter pieces of white wax smong them when laid away.

Gas .- Dwellings lighted by Gas should be often aired.

GLUE. - For a fine, clear and transparent kind of glue, which will unite glass so as to render the fracture almost imperceptible, nothing is equal to ising-glass boiled in spirits of wine.

To Clearse Jars.—Fill them with rather hot water, and stir in a spoonful or so of pearlash (caustic potash is better) pouring off and repearing, if recessary. The adhering cantents will be immediately diseagaged. In entieme cases, let the water and pearlash stand a few hours. Rinse the jar with cold water. Vials and other vossels are easily, washed in this way.

are easily, washed in this way.

CURE FOR A DRY COUGH.—Take of powdered gum-arabic, half an ounce, liquorice juce half an ounce. Dissolve the gum first in warm water, squeze in the juice of a lemon, then add of paragoric two drachms; syrup of squills one drachm. Cork all in a bottle and shake well. Take one teaspoonful when the cough is troublesome.

The way to make a tall mon "short" is to ask him to lend you a bundred dollars. The man who rese to a point of order, sat cown to a pint of whiskey.

More glorious than the aims of war that stain the battle field, More glorious than the epaulette, the waving plume, or shield, More glorious than the trophies that warriors bear away, Are the products of the farmer's toil at the golden harvest day.

Ladies' Health vs. Fashion .- A sensible lady correspondent of the Home Journal thus writes on the subject:

Would that the women of America would arouse to the conscious ness of the responsibility resting upon them, and firmly discountenance any demand of fashion which can seriously affect their health! Of what consequence will it be some twenty years hence, whether they strictly conform to its every caprice or not? But if, by so doing, their health is injured, how fearfully will they then see the effects of their mad folly, not only is themselves, but, it may be, in their children also. In a world where we begin with mothers. In a not asking too much that they should see that their own duty is accomplished.

Look at the "sterner sex," who, though they vary on the dress as fashion dictates, seem to have a more sensible leader to follow; for in what perticular can you see them sacrificing what health demands? They may wear "continuations of the Vesuvius partern," conts long or short waisted, yet they are careful to dress so as to keep warm and dry.

Look at their feet! You do not see one in a hundred venture forth, in damp, chilly weather, with a thin soled cloth boot. they wear boots with thick soles and high heels. While, on the othor hand, you will not see one woman in a thousand, who, when the rain is not pouring, but when the pavement is only damp and cold, wear any thing toocker than a single soled prunelli gaiter! If you doubt my asserti in, look for yourselves at the thousands who walk in our crowded cities. Now, I ask, why is it so? Why is there such a difference? Is is that women are inferior to men in the possession of good common sense? or is it that they dress in this absurd manner to please the eye of man? If so, he must bear some of the blame, if instead of boldly contemning their foliv, he encourages them by admining the beauty of their fact dressed in this manner. Let fair ladies dress as they please in their warm houses, or in warm, dry weather, but for pity's sake, in cold weather let them find semething wa mer than a boot which a strong healthy man would not consider sufficient protection for himself from the dews of summer.

We are called the "weaker sex," but, judging only by the appearances, it is a sad misnower; for what man thinks of going out on a cold autumn or winter's day, with but a thickness of embroidered lace or muslin over his chest, though underneath a warm out covering, which, every time it is in any way displaced, lets the cold, keen mir into the very seat of life? Not he! He has his warm coat buttoned up to his clim. He does not go out with flowing sleeves, with a fur cuff to keep part of the arm warm, leaving plenty of room for the cold air to penetrate around the upper and more susceptible part of the arm. No; his sleeves are thick, long and warm. And why is it that fashion cannot dictate as suitable a dress for ladies? wear in winter as she does in summer, when she larely errs.—She might with as much propriety insist upon our wearing furs and velvet in midsummer, as on our wearing lace chemisetts, lace flowing sleeves, etc. as a promenade dress in winter.

If a man connot find case within himself, it is to hitle purpose to seek it any where elso.

Never anticipate wealth from any other source than labor, ite who waits for dead men's shoes may have to go barefoot. Gratitude is the memory of the heart. Then honor to the farmer where it is justly due, And may be have reward on earth, and bliss hereafter, too, When all earth's mighty harvest is gathered to its God, And man no more shall mar or curse the brightly smiling sod.

WHAT VEGETABLES ARE EFST FOR STOCK .- Mr. Dewey is a careful Speaking of raising vegetables for stock, Mr. Dewey took us into his cellar, where was heaped ap nearly 200 bushels of beets, the large kind for stock, called the Mangel Wurzel, and not far off an ample store of turnips, potatoes and carrots, &c. The beet yields bountifully, and after ave years' experience, Mr D. is satisfied that the Mangel Wurzel is by far the best vegetable to raise for stock -To satisfy our curiosity, he allowed us to measure the ground where the beets were grown this year, and ascertain the quantity produced. 'The piece of ground is about eight reds long by five in width, containing almost one quarter of an agre. The rows run across and were about two feet and a half apart. Every other low was carrots nearly all the way, there being 30 rows of beets and 24 rows of carrots in all. Every four rows of beets filled a 25 bushel cart, giving in all seven loads, good 175 bushe's to the guarter acre. (or 700 bashels per acre.) Besides, the 23 rows of carrots gave 1,760 lbs. or about 32 bushels to the same quarter agre, (or 128 bushels or 3 1-2 tons of carrots) to the same acre.

Mt. Pewcy has planted the same piece of land with beets and alternate rows of turnips or carrots for six years, and with constant ly increasing success. The land is a clayey loam. Sand is added where it is too heavy. It is plowed as deep as can be conveniently done, say from eight to ten inches, and barnyard manure put on and plowed in yearly, equal in quantity to the crop taken off, nor. Drakes his own seed and sows with a nachine. He procues different varieties of seed carb year, so as to select choice toots for the raising of seed for the following year to improve it.

As to feeding with roots, Mr. Dowly says they are exceedingly valuable to keep all kinds of stock thriving, heatthy and productives. He feeds them to all his stock in winter, and till they go out to grass, once of twice a week, as the store will hold out, giving about a peek at a time to a tow or an oat. He never cuts them except for sheep, and then it is easily done with a sharp shovel in a box for the purpose. Mr B, has tried and still uses turnes and carrots, and says he would as soon have in his stock five hushels of bests as four of carrots. The bests do much better for sheep than turnips. The lambs are stronger and more bridy. Fut the bests are especiably valuable for cows giving milk. They increase the quantity and excellence of the flavor more than any other vegetable. Turnips always give a bad flavor.

So much for the Mangel Wurzel. It may suggest to those who have not turned their attention particularly to the subject, what is one of the secrets of raising choice stock, and also the great profit of subject and manning highly a small piece of land.—Granute Farmer.

TRUE POETRY—FROM THE PERSIAN.—The heavers are a point from the pen of God's perfection—the world is a bud from the bower of his beauty—the sun is a spark from the light of his wisdom—and the sky is a bubble on the sea of his power. His beauty is free from the spot of sin, hidden in the thick well of darkness. He made mirrors of the atoms of the world, and threw a reflection from his own face on every atom.

May Vermont's true sons and daughters long beautify a land. Where never fairer waters have swept a fairer strand;

Though many boast of beauty in distant sunny zones,

There is a beauty just as bright around our northern homes.

THANKSGIVING is over, and the boys and girls are off to school. Here are four good rules for them:

PROFESSOR DATIES RULES FOR STUDY.—The other evening Professor Davies, the eminent mathematician, in a conversation with a young friend of his upon the importance of system in studying as well as in everything else, took a piece of paper and wrote off for him the following important rules:

1. Learn one thing at a time.

2 Learn that thing well.

3. Learn its connection, as far as possible, with all other things.

 Believe that to know everything of something, is better than to know something of everything.

To Fatten Fowls.—The best food for fattening fowls is potatoes mixed with meal. Builthe potatoes and mash them fine while they are hot, and mix the meal with them just before it is presented.—They fatten on this diet in less than helf the time ordinarily required to bring them to the same condition of excellence on corn or even meal.

ASHES FOR SORREL.—Leached or unleached ashes will clear the ground of this worthless trash. About twenty years since my father put leached ashes, at the rate of ten loads per acre, on a piece of land so poor that nothing but serrel would grow upon it—and sowed it to wheat. The crop was good, and from that time to the present, whether in clover, wheat or grass, there has been a marked superiority over the adjoining land where no ashes were applied, so nuch so at to be easily discernible by the most casual observer. The experiment was tried on another field with equally satisfactory results.

WATER DRINKING.—Professor Sillman, in a recent Smithsonian lecture at Washington, gave the following sensible advice to young men, which all should read, remember and adopt :

"If, therefore, you wish for a clear mind, strong muscles and quiet nerves, long life, and power prolonged into old age, permit me to say, although I am not giving a temperance lecture, avoid all drinks but water and mild infusions of that fluid; shun tobacco and opium, and every thing else that disturbs the normal state of the system; rely upon nutricious foed, and mild diluent drinks, of which water is the basis, and you will need nothing beyond these things except rest and due reguiation of all your moral powers to give you long, happy and useful lives, and a serone evening at the close."

It is said that in washing clothes, the addition of three-quarters of an ounce of borax to a pound of soap, nelted in without boiling, makes a saving of one half in cost of soaps, and three-fourths the labor of washing, and improves the whiteness of the febries, besides the u-ual caustic effect is removed, and the bands are left with a perial rate, and sliky feeling, leaving nothing more to be desired by the mose subitious washerwoman.

If we were only half as lenient to the living as we are to the dead, how much happiness night we render them, and from how much vain and litter transite might we be spared, when the grave, "the stony grave," has closed over them.

By slight difficulties be not dismayed, nor magnify them by weakness and despendency, but holdly much them are put them to flight.

Observations. - 1. The neater the topon's changes, first quarter. full, and last quarter, are to mudnight, the fairer will it be during the next seven days.

2. The space for this coloubtion occupies frem ten at night, till two next morning.

A DOMESTICAN COLONIA CONTRACTOR OF THE STATE

3. The nearer to midday or noon, the phases of the moon happen. the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next 7 days.

4. The space for this calculation occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the summer, though they affect spring and autumn nearly in the same ratio

5. The moon's change, hist quarter, full, and last quarter, happening during six of the afternoon hours, i. e., from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather; but this is mostly dependant on the wind. as is noted in the table.

6. Though the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring, yet, in the main, the above observations will anply to those periods also.

7. To prognosticate correctly, especially in those cases where the wind is concerned, the observer should be within sight of a good rane. where the four cardinal points of the heavens are correctly placed.

The above table was originally formed by Dr. Herschel, and is now published with some alterations founded on the experience of Dr. Adam Clark.

POST OFFICE REGULATIONS. With the New Postage upon Newspapers, etc.

LETTERS,-A Letter not exceeding half an ounce, three cents pre-paid and five cents, if not, under 2000 miles; but over that dis tance, double these rates.

"A letter, when conveyed wholly or in part by sea to or from a foreign country, over 2500 miles, 20 cents; and under 2500, 10 cents, except all cases where the postages have been or shall be adjusted at different rates by postal trenty or convention."

Drop Letters one cent.

Advertised Letters, one cent in addition to the regular postage.

NEWSPAPERS, Periodicals, Unsealed Circulars, &c., not over 3 oz. one cent each, to any part of the United States, or 12 cent if paid quarterly or yearly, in advance.

Newspapers, &c., not over 1 1-2 or. half the above rates, if sent within the State, where published.

Newspapers, papers and pamphlets, not over 16 pages Sv., in packages of not less than 8 oz. to one addres, one half cent an ounce, if ore-paid by stamps, though if separate the postage may be more.

All transient matter to be pre-paid or charged double.

Weekly Newspapers free in the County of publication. Bills and receipts for payments of moneys for newspapers may be enclosed in subscribers' papers.

office, free.

BOOKS, bound or unbound, not over 4 pounds each, one cent an ounce under, and two cents over 3000 miles. Fifty per cent, to be added if not pre-paid.

Newspapers, &c., to be so enclosed that the character can be determined without removing the wrapper; to have nothing written or printed on the paper or wrapper beyond the direction; and to contain no other enclosure than the bills and receipts mentioned.

Pay all postage on your own basiness, and to editors; and sign your name; and also direct all Letters, & a., sent by mail, plainly.

MAILING LETTERS IN THE MAIL CARS.—The practice of mailing Letters in the Mail Cars along the Mail Routes, instead of a Fost Office, has become so very prevalent that we have been requested to again call attention to the regulations of the Post Office Department in reference to this matter.

Mailing Letters in the made now so commonly oractised is wrong, madmissable and masafa; and laterforces with the legitimate duties of oute agents. It was never contemplated by the laws or by the regulations of this Department that the Mail Car should take the place of the Part Office, which is the proper place for the mailing as well as the delivery of mail matter; bur, for the better accommodation of the public, "Rome Agents have been parantited to receive and mail in hear cars smalleres, are such only, as could not with ordinary this, so have been placed in the Post Office before the closing of the mail."

Route Ag as and, therefore, expected to put an end to this i kariannate reception of Letters in the Case in the namer news of requently and improperty practiced. "by dowing the species in their respective Case, through which letters are deposited, and by receiving and markers such only as tome clearly while the rule abuse late haven."

Eclipses.

In the year 1857, there will be two Eclipses, both of the Sun, and both invisible in Vermont.

I. A Total Eclipse of the Sun on the 25th of March; conjunction at 5h 38m in the evening. This Eclipse will be visible in the southwestern parts of the United States, in Mexico, and a large part of the Pacific Ocean.

II. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun on the 18th of September; conjunction at 0h 43m in the morning. This Eclipse will be visible from nearly all of Asia and Australia, and from small parts of Europe and Africa.

The late Zadock Thompson.

Born at Bridgewater in 1796; graduated from the University of Vermont in 1823; published his Gazetteer of Vermont in 1824, and his (first) History of Vermont in 1833: was ordained in the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1826; published his Natural, Civil and Statistical History of Vermont in 1842; visited Europe in 1851, and on his return published a journal of a trip to London, Paris and the Great Exhibition of 1851; published an appendix to his History in 1853; and in 1854 was appointed to his last public service as State Naturalist, the duties of which office were nearly completed at the time of his death, which took place at Burlington, January 19, 1856. In addition to the works named above, should be suggested his Arithmetic, various contributions to public journals on Natural History and Geology, and meteorological reports and astronomical calculations for Walton's Vermont Register for more than thirty years in succession. In his youth, he scarcely possessed even the poor advantages for education afforded by rural districts half a century ago; and on becoming of age, his modesty prevented him from seeking aid from others; but relying on his own resources, he steadily pursued the studies which he loved, and reached an henorable rank among the scientific men of his day, both at home and inathor's hardons there. And anguish soothe, and trials share.

Warm swill is better than cold.

SCIENCE IN THE KITCHEN. - Professor Liebig, in a letter to Professor Silliman, says :- The method of roasting is obviously the best to make firsh the most puritions. But it does not follow that boiling is to be interdicted. If a piece of meat be put into cold water, and this heated to boiling, and boiled until it is "done," it will become harder, and have less taste, than if thrown into water already boiling. In the first case, the matters grateful to the smell and taste go into the extract-the soup; in the second, the albumen of the meat coagulates from the surface inward, and envelopes the interior with a layer which is impenetrable to water.

Good deeds live and ficurish when all other things are at an end.

Does the Farmer dig the dirt?

Does he wear a homespun shirt?

And if his cheek is brown With the kisses of the sun, Is he less a gentleman Does the Farmer plow and sow?

Does he wield the spade and hot?

And if his hand is hard, And his feet be roughly shol. Shall we give him less regard:

If from out the farmer's store

Comes the bread for rich and roor, Should we honor him the more?

Yea, yea.

Give the Farmer then his due,

And may beay nits blessings shed Down upon the Farmer's head.

GRAFTS AND GRAFT WAX .- In selecting grafts, take the twigs from those branches which have borne fruit the previous season: or if buds are wanted, take from those which have fruit upon them, for, by thus doing, fruit may be obtained, usually, in two seasons.

Graft wax may be made as follows:- 1 pound tailow, two pounds bees-wax, four pounds rosin, all pure and clean articles; put the whole into an iron pot, and heat them until they come to a foam; then turn the heated wax into a tub of water; then with greasy hands work thoroughly, as shoemaker's wax is worked.

From your children's earliest infancy, you must inculcate the necessity for instant obedience.

Unite firmness with gentleness. Let your children understand hat you mean exactly what you say.

Care of Stock.—Constant and kind care of stock is something like hocing to a crop of corn. The hocing keeps the soil light, and susceptible of receiving valuable influences from the atmosphere, and thus saves manure. So frequent carding, and careful watering and feeding, saves hay and roots and grain, and gives you a larger product of milk and liesh than could be obtained on even a larger amount of feed, without the extra care—M. E. Farmer.

TO PREVENT VINES FROM BLEEDING.—The New England Farmer says that common hard soap applied to the end of a recently pruned vine will effectually stop the bleeding.

To make Ewes give Mick at Lambing Time.—Feed them for ten days previous, with soaked bran and carrots, twice each day, and give them a good warm stable.

The rain-drops are Nature's tears, which are transformed into pearls on the grounds of the thrifty husbandman.

The only way for a rich man to be healthy is by exercise and abstinence—to live as if he was poor.—Sir W. Temple.

Never promise children anything unless you are sure you can give them what you promise.

Good Horse Feed.—Mixed crops of grain, under the name of "meslins," have been common in some sections, and have been profitable. A correspondent of the Rurel New Yorker relates the following. We should think the crop would make excellent horse or cattle feed, ground: "I had a conversation with a man larely, who was an experienced farmer, having farmed both in this State (N. Y.) and in Ohio, and less manner of raising horse feed was this: I take about 21-3 bushels of cats, and mix them with one bushel of rye, and sow this amount to the acre. The rye will support the oats in case of a heavy growth, and prevent lodging. In this manner I have raised sixty, and even seventy bushels to the acre."

The best manures for fruit trees, are composts made of stable monure, turn, muck, or beam, with as mall quantity of asles, and stinless lime. The addition of bone manure, &c., increases its value. The proportions may be one third yeard manure, over one-direction, or peat, and a central asless a two much bone manure.

TASTE OF TURNIPS IN MILK .- There is a plain and easy remedy for this, which ought to be more widely known, one which I met some ten years ago, stating that "grain fed regularly to milch cows with turnips would prevent their milk from tasting of the turnips," When I had occasion to try it, I gave each cow four quarts per day of wheat bran, wet in cold water, night and morning, in addition to the turnips fed them. Perhaps a less quantity of bran would answer as well, but it cost us only five cents per bushel, so I fed thus liberally. Not the slightest taste of turnips could be perceived, and we sold the butter (carefully made, of course,) to steady customers in Nashville, for from ten to fifteen cents above the market orice-pretty conclusive evidence as to its quality .- Cor. Rural New Yorker.

The French White Turnip is the Lest for the table-the sweetest, and it keeps the best.

A bushel of corn contains more nutriment than a bushel of wheat. The latter is not generally considered fit to eat unless ground very fine and bolted. It is a mistake, however. Indian corn treated in the same way is nearly spoiled. It never should be ground fine. Let that be remembered. Fine meal may be eaten when fresh ground, but it will not keep sweet. The broken oil globules become rancid and bitter.

MANAGEMENT OF MUCK.—The present season is the time to throw up the rich muck from the bed of the swamps to the surface of the earth, so that the foot can exercise its pulverizing influence upon it; and, by the addition of a bushel or two of air slacked lime to a load of the much, its fertilizing properties will be greatly improved. Allow it to remain in a hear in this state until it is needed for use in the coming season, and it will prove to be a compost which on soil not decidedly heavy, is well worth the expense. More especially are its good effects visible on root crops, or on very light and sandy soil.

PUMPERS AND SAUASITIS, which are resided for edinary numerous through the winter and spring, should be nathered with great care, and placed on a shelf either in a day e dlar, or, which is better, a dark closet, cool but where the temperature is never quite down to the freezing point. In taking the pumpkin from the vine, there should be on fach or two of the stem I fowith it APPLES to be keptiong, hould be picked without traising, and put in a dry room, cold about but not paire to freezing, and of an equal temperature.

People who are always taking care of their health are like misers who are hoarding a treasure which they have never spirit enough to enjoy .- Sterne.

If one speaks ill of thee, fice home to thy conscience and examine thy heart; if thou be guilty, it is a just correction; if not guilty, it is a fair instruction; make use of both, so shalt thou distil honey out of gall, and of an open enemy make a secret friend.

A good conscience, a sound stomach, a clean skin, are the elements of good humor. Get them, and keep them, and-be sure to keep in good humor !

6 Oh! what an unly little creature." " She will be beautiful in heaven, mamma," replied a lady.

To have frightful dreams is a sign that you ate too much supper. Be active, for idleness is the rust of the mind.

A wager is a fool's argument. Read this page over again carefully.

Who wants to be a mossy old stone, away in some damp corner of a pasture, where sunshine and fresh air never come, for the cows to rub themselves against, for snails and bugs to crawl over, and for toads to squat under, among the poisonous weeds? It is far better to be a smooth and polished stone, rolling along in the brawling stream of life, wearing off the rough corners and bringing out the firm crystaline structure of granite. This perpetual chafing and rubbing in the whirling current, shows the sort of grit man is made of.

your acquaintances abundant verification of our assertion. There is an honest farmer who has toiled a few years, got his farm paid for, but does not grow rich very rapidly, as much for lack of contentment mingled with his industry as anything, though he is not aware of it—he hears the wonderful stories of California, and how fortunes may be had for the trouble of picking them up; mortgages his farm to raise money, goes away to the land of gold, and after months of hard toil, comes home to commence again at the bottom of the hill for a more weary and a less successful climbing up again.

Young man, stick to your business. It may be you have mistaken your calling; if so, find it out as quick as possible and change it; but don't let any uneasy desire to get along faster, or a dislike of your honest calling, lead you to abandon it. Have some honest occupation, and then stick to it, persistently, industriously and hopefully, and if there is anything of you it will appear in account.

There, as in solitude and shade I wander
Through the green aisles, or stretched upon the sod,
Awed by the silence, reverently ponder
The way of God.

least three times a year, while there is one to be seen. Fine fruit can only be had by close watching and continued war with insects.

Apply the brush now.

CULTIVATING POTATORS.—The following statement is from a farmer who has been eminently successful in producing this cron: "In the first place I plow deep and harrow, and then make the drills by running the plow each way in the same furrow in order to make it as deep as possible, then draw manure, consisting mostly of refuse cornstalks that have been fed to cattle and horses, and spread in the furrow, drop the potatoes and cover; the after culture being the usual practice of cultivating, plowing and hoeing. This method has never failed to produce good potatoes in a dry loamy soil."

HARD SOAP.—Take 3 pailfulls (twelve-quart pails) of common soft soap, and 5 pints of salt. Heat them together and stir them well and thoroughly. Set the mixture aside to cool and harden. Take the hard soap from the top, and put to it one and a half pailfulls of week lye and two and a half pints of salt. Heat, and stir well together, and cool as before. Again remove the soap, melt it and pour it into any shaped moulds you choose.

practical value in ag riculture, as it shows that, without any artificial preparation, the earthy phosphates may be extracted from the bones and introduced into the soil in a state of solution, perhaps exactly in the quantity necessary for their appointed functions, and that in the employment of bone-dust as manure, all the prepartion necessary, is perhaps to lay it in heaps during the summer, and keep it constantly moist .- Prof. Wholer, in Liebig's " Annalen," 1856.

IRRIGATION with liquid manure, or even simply with water, will greatly accelerate the growth of many vegetables. much improved by freely watering. Strawberries have been doubled in size, and raspberries much increased.

DISH WATER and Soap Suds, instead of being appropriated to the formation of an interesting puddle at the kitchen door, should be poured at the roots of young fruit trees, raspberry and currant bushes, and will accelerate their growth and augment the size of the fruit.

How to Fatten Lambs for Market .- Give them good clean oats, as soon as they will learn how to eat them. This will be when they are about three weeks old. Place the oats where the lambs can get them without being disturbed by the old sheep.

29 3 1 1 8 7 4 8 15 29 0 3 16 23 11 3 1 4 10 6 ... If the sugar be an important element of the food of animals, then it should be the object of the farmer to cut crass for hay-making, at that period when the largest amount of matter soluble in water is contained in it. This is assuredly at an earlier period of its growth than when it has shot into seed, for it is then that woody matter predominates; a substance totally insoluble in water, and therefore less calculated to serve as food to animals than substances capable of assuming a soluble condition. This is the first point for consideration in the production of hay, since it ought to be the object of the farmer to preserve the lary for winter use in the condition most resembling the grass in its highest state of perfection.

Hor, Hor, Hor, Hor, is the watchword for this month. If weeds get the start of growing crops now, they not only appropriate the fertilizing materials of the soil, and monopolize air and sun-light but render the future labor of eradication much more difficult. Therefore keep the weels down, and the soil toosened up, that the rootlets of plants may find permeable ground, air and moisture to grow in, and feed upon. Planting may still be done to some extent especially where faithures have occurred.

Keep your temper in disputes; the cool hammer fashions its red hot brother-metal into any required shape.

Mr. Spence first saw this mode practiced near Florence, by a gentleman who had seen it adopted in the monastery either of Camaldoli or La Verna. A passage in Herodotus, book ii, chapter 25, records that the fishermen in his time were similarly protected from gnats when as leep by covering themselves with their castingnets, through the meshes of which the gnats would not pass. UNDER DRAINING. - In draining grass lands, where the Soil is not too stony or rooty, to admit of the use of the "Double Michigan plow, I have found that plowing and seeding in August and Septemher on turf turped over with this plow, has answered every practical purpose, and is the cheapest mode of draining. The farrows must run up hill and down, and if they are turned properly, each furrow, when the turf is turned under, will serve the purpose of a water course or drain which will last several years; as long, at least, as the land ought to be cropped :- then turn over again, manure and seed down. If the land is very wet, let it be plowed in small plats, from one to two rods wide, and the land furrow will answer the purpose of a deep drain. - N. E. Farmer. A MAN who is not ashamed to wear his "old clothes" until be is able to pay for new ones, may in truth be called a brave man-DEBT is the worst kind of poverty.

They had better have stacks for hay, and troughs for grain and roots. We give no eat meal.—Two of corn and one of buckwheat is a mixture we prefer. Increase the grain to a qurrt per head per day, or more if they require it. Tell the young farmer if he would make very fat sheep by the first of January next, they ought to be at least three years old last spring -kept quiet, salt kept by them, and continue to keep up the full measure of feed until they are fit for the butcher.

REGI MILLS.

APPLES.—C. W. Cooke, of Watterloo, N. Y., purchased five barrels of choice apples taken from one pile, last autumn, and put them into his cellar. On the first of April last, when he came to examine them, those in four of the barrels were mostly all damaged while those placed in the other barrel were sound—"fresh and good." What was the cause of the preservation of the apples in this barrel? Mr. Cooke says it was a Syracuse salt barrel, and had contained coarse salt; this he believes, was the sole cause.

TO KEEP MICE FROM FRUIT TREES .- The Editor of the "Country Gentleman" gives the following very simple method of ten years experience, and which he says, in thousands of applications, has never in a single instance failed. It consists "says he" in nothing more than throwing up with a spade, late in Autumn, a small mound of earth at the foot of each tree, about ten inches or a foot high, the earth to be in close contact with the tree. This remedy, even in grassy fields, much infested with mice, has fully succeeded. Sometimes, however, mice will gnaw young trees above the snow, be it even two feet above the ground .- Ed. Register.]

It is with ideas as with pieces of money; those of the least value generally obtain the widest circulation.

quality of that which is "the staff of life."—Ohio Farmer.

EXTRA NICE BAKED APPLES.—Take sour apples—those of a keen acid-and to every square tin filled with them, pour over a teacupful of water and a teacupful of sugar. Bake slowly till done, with cream, and the juice that cooks from them. This is excellent.

CARE OF COLTS .- 1. Keep colts in good order, not too fat, with a variety or change of food. Oats, cut feed, or roots, and two or three quarts of grain-not more-per day. 2. Wean colts before taking up for winter, if strong and lively, if not, afterwards, but according to the time of being foaled. 2. The colt should be weaned according to the strength of it and its dam, but generally at the age of six months. 4. It is not advisable to let a colt draw on the mare longer than can be helped .- Valley Farmer.

JACK, your wife is not so pensive as she used to be. humph,-no, she left that and became expensive."

An Act relating to the Judiciary.

It is hereby enacted by the General Assembly of the State Vermont, as follows:

Sec. 1. The supreme court of this State shall hereafter consist of one chief judge and five assistant judges, to be appointed in the manner now provided by the constitution of the State.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the judges of said court, or a majority of them, as soon as practicable after their appointment, to designate four of their number whose duty it shall be to attend the sessions of the supreme court in the several counties to which they shall have been assigned for the ensuing year.

Sec. 3. If any one of the judges, so assigned, shall be legally disqualified to act, in the decision of any cause, pending in said supreme court, in any county to which he shall have been assigned, or shall be detained from court by sickness or any unavoidable accident or necessity, the three remaining judges so assigned, shall have power to try and determine such cause, or may hold the court for such term; but when three judges only are present at any term of the supreme court, no cause shall be decided, unless the three judges who try the same shall concur in the decision.

Sec. 4. It shall be competent for any other judge or judges to sit in bane at any term of the supreme court in any county to which he may not have been assigned; and when it shall happen that any one of the four judges, so assigned to hold the court in any one county, shall be unable to attend the term by reason of sickness or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the judges of said supreme court to supply his place by the attendance of some other judge.

Sec. 5. In addition to the several sessions of the supreme court herein provided, there shall be annually two general terms of the supreme court, one for the counties of Bennington, Rutland, Addison, Chittenden, Franklin, Grand Isle, and Lamoille, and one for the counties of Windham. Windsor, Orange, Washington, Caledonia, Orleans and Essex, at such time, and in such county, as said supreme court shall direct.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of all the judges of the supreme court to attend such general terms, and they shall at such terms proceed to hear, try and determine all business and suits which may have been left unfinished at the preceding term of said court in any one of the counties for which said general term is holden, and all such causes as the judges or a majority of them who shall have held such preceding term in any of said counties, shall direct to be re-argued at such general term; but no case heard and tried at such general term shall be determined, unless a majority of all the judges of the supreme court shall concur in the decision.

Sec. 7. In cases heard and tried at any of the terms of the supreme court in any county, and reserved by the judges for advisement, judgment may be entered up at the general term, holden for such county.

SEC. 8. The clerk of the supreme court in each county shall attend each general term of said court holden for such county, with all the papers in his possession relating to any cause to be heard and tried at such general term: provided, that no such clerk shall be required to attend such general term unless some cause shall be continued there to from the county in which he is clerk.

SEC. 9. No judge shall sit at the trial of any cause in hanc which he shall have previously tried at visi prins.

Sec. 19. Each judge of the supreme court shall be a chancellor, and shall have and exercise for, and throughout the State, all the jurisdiction and power which now are, or hereafter shall be vested in a court of chancery.

Sec. 11. All the judicial powers and duties, both in law and in equity, which appertained to the circuit judges, within their respective circuits, under an act entitled "an act relating to the judiciary," approved the 13th day of November, 1849, shall hereafter yest in and be incumbent upon the judges of the supreme court in the respective counties, to which they may at any time be assigned to act, in pursuance of the provisions hereinafter made.

SEC. 12. It shall be the duty of the judges of the supreme court, previous to the session of the court of chancery or the county court within and for any county, to assign one of the judges of the supreme court, to hold said court of chancery, who shall have power to hear and determine all causes and matters pending therein, and also to preside as chief judge in said county court; but in case of the inability of the judge who shall have been assigned to hold, or of the failure of the judges of the supreme court to taske an assignment of any one of her number, to hold the county court and the court of chancery in any one county in due season, any one judge of the supreme court may perform and discharge the said duties, the same as if he had been duly assigned to hold said court in such county.

SEC. 13. The stated terms of the supreme court in the several counties in this State shall be hereafter held as follows:

1858.

The Vermont Watchman & State Journal (weekly) is printed on new type and good paper, and in a style new to country newspapers—embracing two improvements: much reading matter and type easily read. The style of the best English newspapers is adopted—making a newspaper rather than a show-bill. It is designed for general circulation through the State, as a record of State politics and other matters of State interest; and with something of our own occasional correspondence from Washington, with the service of a competent man in our place at home, we hope to preserve the paper in all its interest, usefulness and value. We need not say that it will abide by the Republican principles which now characterize it.

 It is the only Republican paper in the State that publishes the proceedings of the Legislature unabridged.

TERMS.

Single subscriptions, or less than ten, $1,50 in advance. Ten copies to one address $12, and twenty copies or over to one address at $1 each per year; payable invariably in advance on these terms.

During the session of the Legislature, containing proceedings and debates in full, 25 cents. For three months, containing proceedings, debates and laws, 50 cents.

Walton's Daily Ergislative Journal, For the Session of 1858,

Will embrace full reports, including abstracts of the debates on topics of interest. It will be sent free of postuse, for any number less than five, at $1 per copy; five copies for $4; and for any number above five, at75 cents per copy.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment.

To the Halt, the Lame, the Sore, and the Stiff Jointed,
"WE BRING GLAD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY 157
The Volcanic Oil from Mexico has long been known to possess within itself wonderfully soothing, healing, and curative properties, and has been exclusively used by the Aztecs for Rheumatism, Stiffness of Joints or limbs, and for all kinds of Sores, Ulcers, Burns, Wounds, Hard Lumps or Tumors, and all kinds of Pains or Inflamation, in Man or Beast.

FOR HORSES AND OTHER ANIMALS.

There is nothing that can be compared to the Mustang Liniment, in its speedy and permanent cure of Strains, Bruises, Cuts, Galds, Chaps, Scratches, Sweney, Poll Evil, Fistula, Big Head, Spavin, Ring Bone, Wind Gall, Cracked Heels, or any wounds, stiffness, or uncatural enlargement of Bone or Muscle. A livery-stable keeper of this city had a match horse that he prized very highly, that had a large ring-bone on both legs. The horse was completely cured and his limbs felt perfectly smooth by the use of this Liniment. TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS.-Every store should be supplied with the valuable Liniment, as it pays a good profit, and sells rapidly.

Prices of the Liniment.—It is put up in bottles of three sizes, and tails at 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1,00 per bottle. The 50 cent and retails at 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1,00 per bottle. The 50 cent and dollar bottles contain 50 and 100 per cent, more Lindment, in proportion to their cost, so that money is saved by buying the large BARNES & PARK, Proprietors.

This Medicine gives the most instantaneous and perfect reliefand when property persevered with, never fails to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Hundreds have been restored by it, who have used all other remedies in vain.

Dr. THAYER, of BURLINGTON, says it is one of the safest and surest remedies for Coughs, Colds, &c., within his knowledge.

DR. CLARKE, of MONTPELIER, purchased it by the quart, and deor not very standard the remedy, and recommends it to suf-ciers it to be a most valuable remedy, and recommends it to suf-cress from Pulmonary Complaints.

DR. NICHOLS, of NORTHIELD, has used it in his practice for years, and prescribes it for his patients in preference to any of the popular remedies such as Cherry Pectoral, Pulmonary Balsam, Success. - Every man must patiently abide his time. He must Not in listless idleness, not in useless pastime, not in querulous dejection; but in constant, steady, cheerful endeavor; always willing, fulfilling and accomplishing his task, that when the occasion comes he may be equal to the occasion, The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can do well, without a thought of If it come at all, it will come because it is sought after, is a very indiscreet and troublesome ambition which cares so much about fame; about what the world says of us; to always be looking in the faces of others for approval; to be always anxious about the effect of what we do or say; to be always shouting to hear the echoes of our own voices .- Longfellow.

a vain ambition than the polish of an educated mind.

FARMERS BE THOROUGH .- Never half do a thing yourself, nor permit your men to glide over their labors. "If it is worth doing at all, it is worth doing well," would prove a golden maxim to thousands of farmers if they would not only adopt it as a portion of their creed, but exemplify its teachings in their daily life. Away with these scratchers-men that go beneath the surface are the kind wanted.

RECIPE FOR MAKING SAP BEER .- Take one pound of good hops, put them in a clean barrel, and take it to the orchard; fill the barrel with sap and set it away for use; in about two weeks it will be fit for drinking, and will remain good till June.

MORE to be desired than all the riches of the East is a good conscience: how sweet are the slumbers of him who can lie down on his pillow and calmly review the transactions of the day without self-condemnation or self-reproach!

CURE FOR THE BITE OF A MAD DOG .- A writer in the National Intelligencer says that spirits of hartshorn is a certain remedy for the bits of a mad dog. The wound, he adds, should be constantly bathed with it, and three or four doses, diluted, taken inwardly during the day. The hartshorn decomposes, chemically, the virus insinuated into the wound, and immediately afters and destroys its CONVERSATION .- The most casual remark lives forever in its effects. There is not a word which has not a moral history. hence it is that every "idle word" which men utter, assumes a character so important, that an inquest will be held on it in the general judgment.

EDUCATION —Seek for your children, in order—first, moral excellence; second, intellectual improvement; third, physical well being; last of all, worldly thrift and prosperity; and you may attain the blessing promised to Christian nurture.

BOOK FARMING .- Don't fear to take advantage of the practice of good farmers, even if it is recorded in books. It is an idle prejudice that rejects any source of information and improvement, whether it be books or men.

Passions are like the gales of life; it should be our care that they rise not into a tempest.

TEMPER,NCE is the father of health, cheerfulness and old age.

Drunkenness has so large a family that we cannot remember the names of one-half of them. However, disease, ebet, dishonor, destruction and death, are among them—not the most hopeful household in the world!

VIRTUE does not give talents, but it supplies their place. Talent neither give virtue nor supply the place of it.

CUCUMBERS.—When a cucumber is taken from the vines, let it be cut with a knife, leaving about the eight of an inch of the cucumber on the stem, then slit the stem with a knife from its end to the vice, leaving a small portion of the cucumber on each division, and on each separate slit there will be a new cucumber as large as the first. Those wishing to raise large quantities of this article for pickles, will do well to try the experiment.

30 35 20 6 41 13 21 0 0 32 9 3 0 32 7 35 We have known 31 45 21 6 33 13 18 0 0 14 8 41 8 14 8 0 with them to keep very well by simply wrapping in several thicknesses of newspaper and hanging in an open garret. A correspondent says they also "keep perfectly, as he has proved by packing in sweet dry hay run through a hay cutter. Then wrap them with a single thickness of newspaper, and surround each ham with a portion of the hay; tie the whole in large cotton bags, and hang in a dry place."

DRIED RIUDARE FOR PIES.—It may not be generally known that good pies and tarts can be obtained by cutting your scriplus pieplant into small bits and drying them for winter use. For use, soak them, and then stew them like dried apples. They are nearly as good as when tresh.

To Preserve Furs from Moth.—Shake out the furs well or beat them, to expel any moths that may be already in them: then inclose them perfectly tight in a cotton bag (or one of linen), and hang them in a garret, or other dry place. If there be no access for the parent moth except through cotton, no eggs will be laid in the furs.

SHERIDAN having threatened his son Tom to cut him off with a shilling, received this retort:—"Where will you get the shilling?"

Past events are clear as a mirror; future, as obscure, as varnish.

them early in life. BLACK LACE. - The brown hue, frequently perceptible in black lace. if occasioned merely by dust, may be removed by the following simple process: Steep the lace in porter which has stood long enough to become slightly stale. Dab it about in a basin until perfectly soaked; then press out the liquid by squeezing, carefully avoiding wringing, which would tear or fray the lace. After stretching it to its proper width, pin it out to dry. This will be found preferable to the use of gum-water for imparting to the lace the requisite degree of stiffening or dressing, and will make it appear as beautiful as when new.

To KILL BURDOCKS .- Let the plants grow until mid-summer, then the stalks and leaves are full of sap. Then cut off the roots with a strong, sharp spade, two or three inches below ground, pluck off the plant with a mart pull, and stamp the ground firmly over the remaining stump. It will seldom sprout again; but if it does, it will be in so weak a state that another application of the spade will end the matter. What an unfailing barrier against vice, immorality and bad habits, are those tastes which lead us to embellish home.

for cooking vegetables than pure water, because the sall hinders the solution and evaporation of the soluble and flavoring principles of the vegetables.

MILK WASTING FROM THE TEAST OF COWS.—Get from the druggist as small quantity of Collodian, or "liquid cuticle." and when the cow has been milked, apply it to the end of the teats. It instantly will form a thin tough skin, which will close the orifice and prevent the emission of the milk. At milking time the false skin can be broken through, and the cow milked, and the Collodian again applied. In a week or ten days there will be no necessity for further application, as the defect will be cured.

LOOK AT THE STRAWBERRY BEDS.—There is a temptation to neglect them at this season. The runners should still be cut, except in those beds you wish for growing plants. In those, pull up the weeds, and keep the soil loose until the ground freezes.

TO PRESERVE CIDER SWEET.—Heat it until it boils; then take it from the fire and cool it; put it in casks, and close them air tight.

What to put off.—The things you can safely put off until tomorrow are idleness and vice.

How To MEND CHINA.—From an English almanac we, a lorg time since, cut a recipe for mending china. and the exportunity having occurred for trying, we found it admirable, the fracture being scarcely visible after the article was repaired. It is thus made: Take a very thick solution of eum arabic in water, and stir is into plaster of Paris until the mixture becomes a viscous paste. Apply it with a brush to the fractured edges and s lost them together. In three days the article can not again be troom in the same place.—The whiteness of the coment replies it doubly valuable.—Ex-

The messes of the comment relater a december variable to the made of fun and fresh size, in equal proportions, and are to be taken with cold water three times a day. We comment for a per or proportion of the contract of the cold water three times a day.

WINTER WORK .- Success in farming depends much on the quantity and quality of the manure you can make on the farm. barn-yard manure is greatly injured by exposure to heavy rains, which dissolve the most valuable parts, and cause a waste far greater than is generally supposed. A good barn-cellar will save it and a good supply of stiff loam or subsoil will afford a profitable winter's work in composting.

C. HOO'S EXCESSION INVESTIGATION

MANUFACTURED BY

A. O. HOOD, Winooski, Vermont.

The sudden and astonishing success which this Liniment has met, although it has but just begun its career of cures, is the BEST PROOF which can be offered of its superior virtue. The voluntary testimonials which have returned from all quarters, are of the strongest kind. Many who have used it to obtain a little relief, not hoping for a cure, have been happily disappointed. One says "It has cured and sayed the anoputation of a limb: "another. "Its cures of burns and frost-bites are as an ishing: "another. "I find it always cures the tooth-ache and ear-ache almost instantly."

Numerous physicians use and recommendit. It is free from coloring and old pretter, and in all respects the pro-

OLD BOURBON WHISKEY,

For Medicinal Purposes,

PUT UP BY

WILSON, FAIRBANK & CO.

To attain the desired object of placing before the public a reliable article, neither time nor expense has been spared, and the basis upon which we place the virtue of our Whiskey is, (for whatever PURPOSES the PUREST QUALITY may be recommended,) that this is entirely free from any adulterations whatever.

sts Durity cannot be questioned, as a thorough analysis has been made, as will be seen by referring to the Certificate attached to each bottle.

Accompanying each Bottle is a copy of a Certificate received from the State Assayer, giving the result of his investigations.

In order to prevent deception, observe that the fac simile of the signature of the firm of WILSON, FAIR-BANK & Co. accompanies each Bottle, and that the Commissioner's seal is placed over every cork. Without these protections none is genuine.

> STATE ASSATER'S OFFICE, Somer of St., Boston, May, 1854.

At the request of Geo. P. Burnham, Commissioner, I have carefully analyzed the Bourbon whi-key, put up by Wilson, Fairbank & Co., for the Massachusetts State Liquor Agency, and find it to be pure, unabulterated, and fit for medicinal public uses.

PIERCE'S EXPECTORANT

Is the most Efficacious Remedy of the Age for all.

DISEASES OF THE BOAT & TITNGS!

The Proprietor, in offering this preparation to the public, would say, it is no catch-penny concern; its merits have been fully tested for the past six years by our principal Physicians, a number of whose nam - appear on the above certificate. Its action is quick and effectual for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Catarrhal-Coughs. Bronchitis, Pain in the Chest, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, and all Soreness of the Throat and Lungs.

AS AN EXPECTORANT, IT HAS NO EQUAL.

Hundreds of certificates could be obtained of its superiority over all other medicines of the kind. Never did we know of an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are del ght d with its operations, and speak in terms of highest conder gind wir ins operations, am't speak in terms of figures to in-mendation of its magical effect and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we do know," after six years' experience. Per-sons laboring under CHRONIC or CONSCMPTIVE COJGHS, or DIFFICULTY OF BREATHING, will find great advantage by carrying a small quantity of Expectorant with them, while attenling to their various avocations, and taking it occasionally. That Couch will earpel be felt, and they will be enabled the expectorace with the greatest facility, by which means the irritating matter will soon be removed and a perman-nt cure effected.

Price 25 and 50 Cents.

Manufactured on'v by L. F. PIERCE, APOTHECARY & DRUGGIST,

No. 11 State State, Montpelier, Vt. Each Label will have the written signature of the Proprietor.

PERUVIAN SYRUP

OR PROTECTED SOLUTION OF PROTOXIDE OF IRON COMBINED.—This well known Remedy has been used very extensively & with great success to cure.

DYSPEPSIA.

Or Impaired and Imperfect Digestion, and the consequent Deterioration of the Blood.

Nore.—The failur of iron as a remedy for Dyspersia, a bad state of the blood, and the numerous diseases caused thereby, has arisen from the want of such a preparation of it as shall enter the stomach in affeoroxing state, and assimilate at once with the blood. This want the PERUVIAN SYRUP supplies, containing, as it does, Iron in the only form an which it is possible for it to enter the circulation. For this reason the PERUVIAN SYRUP often radically cure diseases in which other preparations of iron and other medicines have been found to be of no avail.

Certificate of A. A. Hoyes, M. D. of Boston. It is well known that the medicinal effects of Protoxide of Iron

It is well known that the medicinal effects of Protoxide of Iron are lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible. In the PERUVIAN SYRUP this desirable point is attained by combination in a way before unknown; and this solution-may replace all the proto-carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica.

A. A. HAYES,

Assayer to the State of Mass. Beathwonials from Clergymen.

The Rev. John Pirroint says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of the medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

The Rev. Thos. Whittemore: "I have been using, for some time past, the PERUVIAN SYRUP. It gives me new vicor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscle. I have no doubt, that in cases of Paralysis, like mine, Dyspepsia, and especially of Dropsy, it may be administered with a greater prospect of success than any other medicine in use among us."

Testimanials from well-known Physicians.

Letter from S. H. KENDALL, M. D., Boston, Jan. 22, 1859. I was formany years athleted with Liver Complaint, of which I was cured in 1854 by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and have enjoyed perfect health ever since.

Eclipses.

In the year 1860 there will be two Eclipses of the Sun and two of the Moon.

I. An annual Eclipse of the Sun, Jan. 22nd, invisible in Vermont. d in Right Ascension 7h 1m evening; visible in the Southern Ocean and in the southern extremity of South America.

A partial Eclipse of the Moon, Feb. 6th, visible in Vermont, as follows:

First contact with the shadow, Feb. 6th, 8h 12m evening. 66 66 9h 39m Middle of the Eclipse, 66 " 11h 6m Last contact with the shadow, Magnitude of the Eclipse (Moon's diameter-1) 0.81.

III. A total Eclipse of the Sun, July 18th; -partial and visible in Vermont, as follows:

Beginning of the Eclipse, July 18th, 7h 7m morning. Greatest obscuration, 8h 6m

End of the Eclipse, 9h 11m Digits eclipsed, 61-3 on Sun's Northern Limb.

The Total Eclipse begins near the mouth of Columbia River, and the central line passes in a northeasterly direction across the American Continent, and, bending in a southeasterly direction, crosses the Atlantic Ocean, the northern part of Spain, the northern part of Africa, and terminates near the southwestern shore of the Red Sea.

A partial Eclipse of the moon, Aug. 1st. Mean time of 8, lh 8m evening. Invisible in Vermont.

With bright days of Summer the rose tints have flown: The music of birds bath a gloomier tone:

The glories of blossoming spring-time have past.

The perfame of roses floats not on the blast.

CURE FOR SCRATCHES .- H. Payne of Lockport, communicates the following remedy for scratches in horses, which has been tried with good effect: "When the horse comes in at night, his legs should be washed clean and rubbed as dry as may be; then apply good vinegar, rubbing it well to the skin. Two applications a day are sufficient. I have always found it a sure preventive and a certain cure. If the legs have become cracked and sore, apply the vinegar freely, and add a piece of copperas the size of a common hickory nut, to a quart of vinegar."

bags, causing them to kick about lustily. I wondered why they should keep up such a butting evidently very annoying to the cows, and after much reflection I arrived at the following conclusion:

That the muscles of the lower part of the cow's bag and teats are closely but involuntarily contracted to prevent the escape of the milk: that the butting of the calf is instinctive on the part of the calf, to cause the muscles of the bag to relax and permit the milk to flow. The muscles of some cow's bags seem to be more rigid than others, and hence require more of the punching process. ing upon the suggestions hereby derived, the next time I began to milk a cow that refused to "give down," I most vigorously, with closed hand, tried to imitate the performances of the calf, and with the happiest results. And have never failed with the most obstinate holders up, to bring the milk speedily down. A. S. PROCTOR.

Scions for grafting should be cut in February, which is the right season to insure their living and doing well; they should then be housed in a cellar until the time for inserting them arrives, which, with you, might be by the last week of April or the first week of May, and during the latter month. They should be put only into healthy, vigorous branches, such as you would not care to remove from the tree, and thus you will have an artificial tree that will be ready for bearing in about three years.

GRAFTING WAX .- Take one pint of Linseed oil, three lbs. rosin, one lb. beeswax-melt well, and pour into a vessel of water-grease the hands and pull until white.

SMALL FAULTS indulged are little thieves that let in greater.

por ous. The next object is to -elect good seed. In selecting herds grass ake the light-st color you can find, entirely free from must. It is a delicate seed, and its germinating power easily destroyed. Propeoften wonder why they do not get a "good carch," when the seed they sow is worthless, the germinating power having been completely destroyed by f. rmenta-tion or heating. Next, the quantity of seed peracre. I was taught that four quarts herds grass, and four pounds clover was the rule. I tried it, and on land in good heart I found my first crop worthless, as it cost more to get it than it was worth. I gradually increased the quantity with increased benefit. For many years my rule has be n, a heaping half bushel, more rather than less, usually twelve qts, herds grass and ten the clover. This gives me an average crop of three tons good hay per acre the first year's mowing.

Much seed is lost by covering it too deep. Small seeds, like herds grass, red top, &c., will not grow if covered more than half an inch. Clover will probably sprout some deeper. The seed should be sowed even to insure a good crop of hav. Those who cannot do this by hand should get a machine. The grain should be harrowed in before sowing the grass seed, after which pass a roller over the land if light and dry, if not a bush. Then pass over the field with a hoe and level all inequalities that will be in the way of the scythe.

Having some plaster on hand I mixed it thoroughly with the manure, spreading the latter thinly over the floor and bruising and chopping it very It was thrown into a heap and remained on the floor until the corn was ready for it, and there was no further perceptible escape With this I top-dressed all my corn, eleven acres, and of ammonia. had a barrel left over for other purposes. So well satisfied am I with the result, that for the future I intend to prepare my hen manure in the same way and apply it to the same crop. I mixed enough plaster with it to make it dry and quite inoffensive to han-I can speak of this from experience, as I dropped it over four acres myself. Now, here is a manure equal in value, I doubt not, to the average of imported guano, which every farmer can manufacture for himself, for every farmer keeps fowls. But he must have a suitable building for them, and not allow them to roost all about his premises and even in trees, wasting that valuable manure, as is too often the case. So highly do I esteem this manure that I make it my duty every night to see that all my fowls are within their proper house.

Do Nor ruin your trees by pruning them this month; wait till June.

CLEAN MILKIN;—It is sometimes forgotten that the last gill of milk drawn from the cow's udder is the best part of every milking. Careful experimen s made in England show, (according to a report lately publ shed) that "the quantity of cream obtained from the last drawn cup from cows, exceeds that of the first in the proportion of twelve to one." The difference in the quality also is considerable, Hence, a person who carlessly leaves but half a pint of milk undrawn, looses in reality about as much cream as would be afforded by six or eight pints at the beginning; and loses, too, that part of the cream which gives the richness and high flavor to his butter.

TEST THE SEED CORN BEFORE PLANTING.—This is easily done.— Select from the mass enough to be a fair sample, and plant in a warm situation, or in a box of earth, kept suitably warm and moist. An examination of the specimens, even before coming up, will show whether they are in a sprouting condition. Better far to do this, than to make a similar experiment on a five or ten acre field, and only learn of a bad result when too late to be remedied.

When upon the road the usual baiting is bread, coarse wheat bread-occasionally dipped in the cheap wine of the country.

The barley crop appears stout and heavy as it stands in the field: and yet the land is ill-manured and far from rich. I do not see anything to prevent as large crops on ordinary lands; and I do not know why animals here should not find it as nutritious and as palatable food as it is there.

A CHARLOTTE .- Butter a deep dish very thick, cut thin, smooth slices of nice white bread, and line the bottom and sides of the dish. fill it with sliced apples, sprinkling each layer with brown sugar enough to sweeten it, and any spice you may prefer: also a few bits of butter. Have ready some slices of bread to cover the top. soaked a few minutes in milk or water; lay them over, and cover them with a plate that will fit close, and upon that lay a weight. Bake in a moderate heat three hours.

An upright is always easier than a stooping posture, because it is more natural, and one part is better supported by another; so it is easier to be an honest man than a knave. It is also more grace-

How to Pickle Plums.—For seven pounds plums, take four and a half of sugar, one quart vinegar, four ounces cinnamon, two ounces cloves-put the spices in a bag-scald the sugar, spice and vinegar together-then pour over the plums-cover tight-let them stand on the stove and keep hot-but not boil, for four hours.

F. HOLDROOK. GIVING THE BEES A HINT .- S. P. Campbell, Minnesota, writes that he found the drones remaining during the middle of September after brood time, thereby preventing the honey from gaining in the hive. Thinking that the bees were negligent, he killed about a dozen drones as they were entering the hive, and the next day he found the hive entirely cleared of drones, the workers having destroyed the rest. The hive then filled with honey very rapidly.

Sate one to an aged friend, "I had a letter from a distant correspondent the other day, who inquired if you were in the land of the living." "No," replied the saint-like, venerable man, "but I am going there. This world is alone the world of shadow; and the cternal is the only one of living realities."

To make a stone fence strongly and expeditiously, will require several months experience.

Having determined on the proper site for your fence, deposit as many stone on either side as you think will be sufficient. If the site is level or nearly so, no further preparation is necessary, but stretch your line and go to work. It is well to use two lines, one on each side, so that there be no shifting about of the line. Raise your line or lines some eight inches or more from the ground, so that the foundation stones may be placed underneath, thus making a shoul der or jog on the exterior of the fence. Lay the largest rocks first and the largest continually, until the fence is complete.

Three feet base, four feet six inches high, and sloped to ten o twelve inches at the top, is excellent fence; but with good stone:

body of less dimensions will suffice.

My fences lately made look rough, because I pay no attention t a face stone, but head all to the line, both sharp-pointed and rough The stones should be laid flat, and kept level, if necessary fill i small stones. Be particular in laying the foundation; leave n stone to jostle in the wall. On a side hill the track should be leve ed, put the best stone lower side, and batter in proportion to steep ness .- Southern Planter.

COUGHS .- The great and sudden changes of our climate, are fruitful sources of Pulmonary and Bronchial Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stage of disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cough or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Price, 25 cents per box.

Indispensable to PUBLIC SPEAKERS.

3 From Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, who has used the Troches five years.] "I have never changed my mind respecting them from the first, except to think yet better of that which I began in thinking well of." In all my lecturing tours, I put 'Troches' into my carpet bag as regularly as I do lectures or linen. I do not hesitate to say that in so far as I have had an opportunity of comparison, your 'Troches' are pre-eminently the best, and the first, of the great Lozenge School."

Commended also by Rev. E. H. CHAPIN and many other distinguished public speakers. For Children laboring from Corgh, Whosping Cough, or Hoarseness, are particularly adapted, on account of their southing and demulcent properties. Assisting expectoration, and preventing an accumulation of phlegm. Sold by all Druggists.

TESTIMONIAL.

BOSTON, July 19, 1857.

AT MESSRS. J. BURNETT & Co.—I cannot refuse to state the salutary effect in my own aggravated case, of your excellent Hair Oil—(Cocoaine.)

For many months my hair had been falling off, until I was fearful of losing it entirely. The skin upon my head became gradually more and more inflamed, so that I could not touch it without pain. This irritated condition I attributed to the use of various advertised hair washes, which I have since been told contain camphene spirit.

By the advice of my physician, to whom you had shown your process of purifying the Oil, I commenced its use the last week in June. The first application allayed the itching and irritation; in three or four days the redness and tenderness disappeared—the hair ceased to fall, and I have now a thick growth of new hair. I trust that others similarly afflicted, will be induced to try the same remedy.

Yours very truly,

SUSAN R. POPE.

Such a man must have an almost infinite love of details, blanded (and this is a rare combination) with a bigh power of imagination, enabling him to look along extended lines of possible action, and put these details in their right places. He requires a great knowledge of character, with that exquisite tact which feels unerringly the right moment when to act. A discrete rapidity must pervade all the movements of his thought and action. He must be singularly free from vanity, and is generally found to be an enthusiast, who has the art to conceal his enthusiasm.

shuffle and twist, that it does honest, manly independence to stand his ground.

"I WILL NOT."-"I will not," said a little boy, stoutly, as I passed along. The tone of his voice struck me. "What won't you do?" I stopped and asked. "That boy wants me to 'make believe' something to my mother, and I won't," he answered, in the same stout tone. The little boy is on the right track. That is just one of the places to say "won?t." I hope he will stick to it.

ENJOY the bl-ssing of this day, if God send them, and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly, for this day is only ours-we are dead to yesterday, and we are not born to the morrow.

ADVICE TO CREDITORS .- When you cannot collect the money from a debtor, don't forget to make a note of it.

But who has ever seen a farm devoted in part to hood crops, where there was not always weed; enough to occapy all old spells?

THERE cannot live a more unhappy creature than an ill natured old man, who is neither capable of receiving pleasure, nor sensible of doing them to others.

A NOBLE income, nobly expended, is no common sight; it is far easier to acquire a fortune like a knave than to expend it like a gentleman.

Sorkow comes soon enough without despondency; it does a man no good to carry around a lightning rod to attract trouble.

So long as men are imprudent in their diet and their business, doctors and lawyers will ride in carriages.

MAKE HOME BRIGHT AND PLEASANT.

More than building showy mansion,
More than dress and fine array,
More than domes or lofty steeples,
More than station, power, and sway,
Make your home both neat and tasteful,
Bright and pleasant, always fair,
Where each heart shall rest contented,
Grateful for each beauty there.

STRAWBERRY VINE-GAR.—Can be made by any one desirous of mingling the flavor of this delicious berry with that of cider vinegar, by putting four pounds of ripe strawber less to three quarts of the best vin gar, and letting them stand three or four days. Then drain the vinegar through a jelly bag, and pour it on to the same quantity of fruit. Repeat the process in three days a third time. To each pound of liquor thus obtained, add one pound of line sugar. Bottle it and let it stand covered, but not tight cork ed, a week; then cork it tight, and set it in a dry and cool place, where it will not heeze. Kaspberry vinegar can be made in the same manner.

SWAMP Muck, or peat, when dry, will take up without dripping four times its own weight of water. Hence the necessity of thorough drainage.

More than lofty swelling tides,
More than fashion's luring glare,
More than Mammon's gilded honors,
More than thoughts can well compare—
See that home is made attractive,
By surroundings pure and bright;
Trees arranged with taste and order,
Flowers with all their sweet delight.

not observed this in his experience?

PRESERVING CURRANTS AND GOOSBERRIES.—These acid fruits when in a green state are much esteemed for tarts and pies, and it is easy to preserve them so as to retain their lively flavor in perfection at all seasons of the year. Gather them when full grown in a dry day and put them in clean bottles. Place the bottles, standing upright, in a kettle of cold water, and raise it to a boiling temperature, and then cork and seal them up with wax. Place in the cellar, and at any time they will be found fit for use.

CURRANT ICE WATER.—Fress the juice from ripe currants; strain it clear; to one pint of juice put nearly a pound of loaf sugar. When wanted for use, put to it ice water enough to make a pleasant drink. Grate nutmeg over, and serve.—Or it may be frozen like ice cream; for this, it should be sweet and rich.

than the old mode.—Gardner's Monthly.

BLOCKBERRY WINE.—Measure your berries and bruise them:
then to every gallon add one quart of water. Let the mixture stand twenty-four hours, stirring occasionally: then strain off the liquor into a cask, to every gallon adding two pounds of sugar. Cork tight, and let it stand till the following October, and you will have wine ready for use without any further straining or boiling.

A RICH mold formed by rotting clover, is worth more than the same number of pounds of clover; 400 pounds of dry plants will yield 100 pounds of mold.

A SILVER tongue and a brazen face cover a heart of steel.

RENOVATING OLD APPLE TREES.—"Dig about it and dung it," says a brif writer in the Genesee Farmer, was the scriptural way of renewing barren trees. Success attends the same method now. Dig "about," octainly as far as the branches retend, but "do nutdig too deep, or injure the roots unnecessarily. Stirring the surface soil frequently, is what they want. Try that, and you will be amazed at the renovation you work in old apple trees."

It takes 5 pounds of corn to form one of beef. Three and a half pounds of cooked meal will form one of pork.

A ton of dry forest leaves produces only 500 pounds of mold;
hence 500 pounds of mold will produce a ton of plants.

OUR FARMERS.

Their homes are their castles—their hearthstone a throne— They rule with no sceptre the kingdoms they own; The stalks, and the vines, and the fruit-bearing trees, Are subjects that bend not to tyrants the knee;

But bend with the weight of the orchard and field, Ever loyal and faithful, a harvest to yield; No planning and plotting among them is known— No traitor the sovereign would strike from his throne,

He stands 'midst his acres of grass, wheat and maize, Like Crusoe, "the monarch of all he surveys." His banks are the earth banks that stand on his farm— The banks that are safe when the panics alarm:

The stock is the cattle—not fancy in breed;
The shares are the plow-shares that score for the seed—
Not quoted on 'Change in the broker's array;
But shares on which Nature will dividends nav.

RAISING CALVES-A NEW METHOD .- While on a short visit to the farm of Mr. D M Crowell, of this town, a few days ago, our attention was drawn to a plan of raising calves for early sale. which, to us in this section of the country. has the appearance of novelty, and seems worthy of the consideration of stock grow-

SEASONABLE HINTS.

Mr. Crowell took ten calves (all heifers) last spring, and commenced feeding them on sour milk at a few days old, keeping them on the same kind of food during the summer, taking good care to feed them uniformly, but not very abundantly, so as to keep them growing thriftily, 4 12 m without forcing too 5 32 m rapidly. In the fall they were put in the hay, and a little meal, increasing the quantity of the latter gradually, with a view of fitting them for Beef in the spring, at one year old or a little under. These ten calves now look like young oxen, and are estimated to weigh about 500 lbs, each, alive.—V. Y. Farmer.

Walking Horses.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman suggests the offering of premiums at annual county fairs, for fast walking, as well as fast trotting horses. He says he knew a man who kept from two to four teams at work on the road, and never allowed them to trot at all; yet he made the distance in quicker time than his neighbors who made their horses trot at every convenient place. He said that when a horse walked after trotting, he walked much slower than his common gait, if kept continually on the walk, and thus lost more than he gained by trotting.

VALUABLE SALVE .- I was the inventor of the "Golden Salve," which I have used for more than twenty years. I have given a re-ceipt for making it to many of my friends, some of whom are manufacturing it quite extensively. I consider it the best salve or ointment, ever used for man or beast. So valuable a receipt I think I ought to withhold from the public no longer. Many a poor person could make it and sell to their neighbors, who did not choose to make it for themselves.

WRITING INK

WANTEACTURE ESTABLISHED 1816

Testimony of parties who have used it for more than a Quarter of a Century.

REGISTRY OF DEEDS OFFICE, !

MESSRS MAYNARD & NOYES.

Boston, Jan. 10, 1859.

GENTLEMEN: I am glad that longer use of your Writing Ink enables me to repeat the testimony given in its favor many years ago. I have used it in this office thirty-seven years, and my oldest records are as legible and black as when first written. This rare quality for permanence renders it invaluable for State and County Records, and all mercantile purposes, where it is important that the writing should remain legible and unchanged in color by the lapse of time.

HENRY ALLINE, Register of Deeds.

Bowdoin Public School, A Boston, Jan. 7, 1857.

MESSRS. MAYNARD & NOYES,

GENTLEMEN: I have used your link in the Writing Department of this School the past thirty years, and take great pleasure in renewing my testimonial offis superior quality. It flows freely from the pen, its color is brilliant and permanent, and it combines all the necessary and desirable qualities of good link.

JAMES ROBINSON, Writing Master.

Maynard & Noyes' Copying Ink.

This Ink yields a copy as distinct and perfect as the original. It also combines all the properties of our writing ink, for which it can be substituted.

Maynard & Noyes' Carmine Ink.

This article is a beautiful red or crimson color, and surpassingly brilliant and rich. It is free from sediment, and will not mould, fade, or turn dark by exposure to the air.

The above popular Inks, together with Blue, Red, Indelible and Steneil Ink, Chemical Writing Fluid, Ink Powder, se., is for sale by the Manufacturers, No. 51 & 53 Water Street, Boston, and by all Stationers and Booksellers.

This valuable preparation, freed of all the common components, such as Opiates, or Expectorants, which not only run down the system, but destroy all chance of cure, will be found on trial to possess the following properties, and to which the most valuable testimonials may be found in the pamphlets.

For Whooping Cough, and as a Soothing Syrup, it meets every want, and by early use will save the largest proportion of ruptures in children which can be traced to Whooping Cough.

In ordinary Coughs and Bronchial Complaints, the forerunners of Consumption, its splendid tonic properties make it not only the most perfect enemy to disease, but build up and su-tain the system against a recurrence of the Complaint. No nursery should be without it.

This great Neuralgic remedy and Natural Opiate calls for special attention and interest, being free of Opium, or preparations of Opium, or of any but its strictly vegetable and medical properties. For Neuralgia, Rheomatism, Gout, Tooth and Ear Ache, Spinal Complaints, Bleeding at Lungs or Stomach, Rose or Hay Fever, Catarrh, and all minor Nervous Complaints; for loss of Sleep, Chronic or Nervous Head Ache, Sick Head Ache, it has no equal, and to which we offer testimonials from undoubted sources.

For Delirium Tremens it is a Sure Remedy.

For Bowel Complaints, including Cholera Morbus, it is splendidly adapted, in not only removing the pains but acting as physic, a great contrast with Opium, which not only constipates and drugs the system, but makes the remedy worse than the dispase.

From invalids we ask correspondence for Pamphlets or explanation, without "postage-stamps."

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES!

OR COUGH LOZENGES.

Cures Cough, Cold, Hoarseness and Influenza. Cures any Irritation or Soreness of the Throat. Relieves the Hacking Coush in Consumption. Relieves Bronchitis. Asthma and Catarrh Clears and gives strength to the voice of SINGERS. Indispensable to PUBLIC SPRAKERS.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.

For CHILDREN, laboring from Cough, WHOOPING COUGH, or Hoarseness, are particularly adapted, on account of their soothing and demulcent properties. Assisting expectoration, and preventing an accumulation of phlegm.

COUGHS.

The great and sudden changes of our climate, are fruitful sources of PULMONARY and Bronchial Affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchal Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cough or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off.

From Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

It is five years ago that I accidentally entered your store and inquired for some sort of preparation for hearseness. The Trocures which you gave me entirely answered the purpose which I had in view. Since then, in all my lecturing tours, I put Trocutes into my carpet bag as regularly as I do lectures or linen, and I have never changed my mind respecting them from the first, except to think yet better of that which I began thinking well of.

"I recommend their use to public speakers "

REV. E. H. CHAPIN, New York.
"Most salutary relief in Bronchitis"

Balsam of Wild Cherry.

So manifold have been the cures effected by this Balsam, that it has become a universal remedy. Its remedial powers challenge competition; and it stands without a rival in the cure of the following diseases, viz:

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup,

Influenza, Whooping Cough, Quinsy, Inflamation of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, Incipient Consumption, and in fact any disease of a pulmonic nature.

From Hon, W. H. JONES, of Vermont.

WEST DOVER Vt., May 18, 1860.

Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co.,

Gentlemen:—I have been troubled from my boyhood with what the doctors would call chronic, or hereditary lung complaint. Some ten or twelve years since, early in the winter, I took cold, which as usual settled into a severe cough, which continued to increase as the season advanced, althour I made use of all the cough remedies I had knowledge of. My family physician also prescribed for me, until I was fully satisfied that I experienced no relief. During all this time I was gradually running down, losing flesh and strength, until my friends as well as myself became very much alarmed, thinking I should waste away in Consumption.

While in Boston, during the spring following, I was induced by friends to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and to please them (for I had no faith in the article myself.) I procured a bottle and commenced its use. After one day's trial I was sensible that it was relieving me; in 0 day's time my cough had entirely ceased, and I was soon restored to my asual health and strength. I have ever since kept the Balsam in my house, and whenever any member of my family has a cough or cold it is immediately resorted to. No family should be without it.

Yours truly, W. H. JONES.

Twenty Years' Experience.

MONKTON, Vt., June 28, 1860.

Messrs S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston.

Gentlemen: —Having for twenty wars past been in the habit of using Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry in cases of Courhs, Colds, and Pulmonary Affections, I can testify to its great merits with the utmost confidence. I believe it to be the best medicine for these complaints every used, and have no doubt that the use of it has at three several times saved from Consumption, besides many times in late years affording immediate relief in less severe attacks.

I am 78 years of age, and for many years have been a subject for pulmonary disease, but by the use of this excellent remedy I keep myself quite comfortable. I can hardly find language to express the exalted opinion I have of the Balsam, and recommend its use to all as the best remedy that can be used. GEORGE DART.

A. O. HOOD'S

EXCELSIOR LINIMENT

This Liniment WILL CURE rheumatism, neuralgia, eumonia, pain in the back and side, lameness, adache, toothache, poison, sprains, bruises, burns, undis, frost bite, enlarged joints, contracted muscles, chapped hands, corns, sore throat, sore lips, chilblains, piles, and is the remedy for horses troubled with sprains, galls, stiftes, scratches, swelling and other diseases common to horses, requiring external application.

Manufactured by A. O. HOOD, Winooski, Vt.

The best proof of the superior virtue of this Liniment is that it invariably cures whatever it is recommended for. The thousands of voluntary testimonials constantly returning from all quarters, are of the strongest kind—many who have used it to obtain a little relief, not expecting a cure, have been happily disappointed.

For Rheumatic affections it has no rival. It has saved the amputation of limbs. It cures toothache and earache almost instantly. For burns, frost bite, chilblains and poison, it has no parallel. It is a sure remedy for corns.
